

Contents

List of Contributors	7
Acknowledgments	9
 Leninist beneficiaries? Pre-1989 legacies and the radical right in post-1989 Central and Eastern Europe: Some introductory observations Michael Minkenberg	 11
 The radical right in post-communist Europe: Comparative perspectives on legacies and party competition Lenka Bustikova and Herbert Kitschelt	 29
 Historical legacies and the size of the red-brown vote in post-communist politics John Ishiyama	 63
 Two variants of the Russian radical right: Imperial and social nationalism Timm Beichelt	 91
 The League of Polish Families between East and West, past and present Sarah L. de Lange and Simona Guerra	 123
 Interwar fascism and the post-1989 radical right: Ideology, opportunism and historical legacy in Bulgaria and Romania James Frusetta and Anca Glont	 157
 Afterword – Modalities of fear: The radical right in Eastern Europe Sabrina P. Ramet	 187