

Contents

Preface	vii
Introduction
Gün R. Semin and Barbara Krahé	ix
I HISTORICAL PERSPECTIVES ON SOCIAL PSYCHOLOGY
1 History as multiple reconstruction: of mainstreams, tributaries and undercurrents Carl F. Graumann	1
2 A historical perspective on social psychological theories Helmut E. Lück	16
II INTERPERSONAL AND GROUP PROCESSES
3 Opponents in aggressive conflicts: divergent interpretations and evaluations of interaction sequences Amélie Mummendey	36
4 Towards differential social psychology: individual differences in responding to an aggressive discussant Hermann Brandstätter	55
5 Exploring the experience of injustice Gerold Mikula	74
6 Accounts of men and women for failure events: applications of an account-phase taxonomy Peter Schönbach	97
7 Actions of social systems: theoretical and empirical investigations Mario von Cranach, Guy Ochsenein and Franziska Tschan	119

III COGNITIVE APPROACHES

- 8 Attitude theory and measurement
Hubert Feger 156
- 9 Attitudes and behaviour: a biased matching theory
Arnold Upmeyer, Hans-Günter Roth and Ashiq Ali Shah 175
- 10 Schemata for requests
Roland Mangold and Theo Herrmann 203
- 11 Cognitive bases of situation processing and behaviour-
setting participation
Gerhard Kaminski 218

IV APPLIED PERSPECTIVES

- 12 The relevance of psychological factors in the convalescence
of accident patients
Dieter Frey and Oswald Rogner 241
- 13 Bereavement as a stressful life event: a paradigm for research on the stress–health relationship?
Wolfgang Stroebe and Margaret Stroebe 258
- Index 273