

Table of Contents

Abbreviations	vii
Introduction: Kevin Corrigan, John D. Turner and Peter Wakefield	ix
In Memory of Steven K. Strange	xi

Part I: Religion, Philosophy, Divine Inspiration and Religious Piety in the pre-Platonic and Platonic Traditions

1. Suzanne Stern-Gillet (University of Bolton, UK): "Divine Inspiration Transformed: From Hesiod to Ficino."	1
2. Kevin Corrigan (Emory University): "Religion and Philosophy in the Platonic tradition."	19
3. John Dillon (Trinity College, Dublin, Emeritus): "The Religion of the last Hellenes."	35

Part II: Religion and Philosophy in the Platonic and Neoplatonic Traditions

4. Steven K. Strange (Emory University): "Plotinus and the Ancients"	53
5. Michael Harrington (Duquesne University): "The Emperor Julian's Use of Neoplatonic Philosophy and Religion."	65
6. John Phillips (University of Tennessee): "Proclus and others on Divine Causation".	81
7. John Dillon (Trinity College, Dublin, Emeritus): "Philosophy and Theology in Proclus."	99
8. Gerald Bechtle (University of Bern, Switzerland): "Categories and Conversion."	107

9. Luc Brisson (CNRS, Paris, France): “Allegory as used by the later Neo-platonic philosophers.”	121
Part III: Comparative Perspectives: Jewish, Christian, Islamic, and Hindu
10 Sarah Pessin (University of Denver): “Divine Presence, Divine Absence and the Plotinian Apophatic Dialectic: Isaac Israeli.”	133
11. John D. Turner (University of Nebraska, Lincoln): “The Curious Philosophical World of Later Religious Gnosticism: The Symbiosis of Ante- quity Philosophy and Religion.”	151
12. Volker Drecoll (Tübingen University, Germany): “Middle Platonic elements in Augustine’s De Civitate 8. ”	183
13. Svetla Slaveva-Griffin (Florida State University): “Contemplative Ascent as Dance in Plotinus and Rūmī.”	195
14. Deepa Majumdar (Purdue University): “The Enneads of Plotinus and the Bhagavadgītā : Harmony amidst Differences.”	213
15. Rkia Elaroui Cornell (Emory University): “The Muslim Diotima? Traces of Plato’s Symposium in Sufi Narratives of Rabi’ā al- ‘Adawiyya”	235
16. Daniel Regnier (St. Thomas More College): “The Simple Soul: Plotinus and Śaṅkara on Self and Soul as Partless”	257
17. Benjamin Gleede (Universität Tübingen): “Endorsing a cliché: On Liberty and Necessity in Christian and Neoplatonist Accounts of Creation”	277
18. Suzanne Stern-Gillet (University of Bolton, UK): “Virtues of Self-knowledge: Aristotle, Augustine, and Siger of Brabant”	295
19. Bibliography	323
20. Contributors	343
21. Subject and Name Index	349