CONTENTS

List of Illustrations	vii
Acknowledgments	x
Introduction Mischa Honeck, Martin Klimke, and Anne Kuhlmann	1
Part I. Saints and Slaves, Moors and Hessians
1. The Calenberg Altarpiece: Black African Christians in Renaissance Germany Paul H. D. Kaplan	21
2. The Black Diaspora in Europe in the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Centuries, with Special Reference to German-Speaking Areas Kate Lowe	38
3. Ambiguous Duty: Black Servants at German Ancien Régime Courts Anne Kuhlmann	57
4. Real and Imagined Africans in Baroque Court Divertissements Rashid-S. Pegah	74
5. From American Slaves to Hessian Subjects: Silenced Black Narratives of the American Revolution Maria I. Diedrich	92
Part II. From Enlightenment to Empire
6. The German Reception of African American Writers in the Long Nineteenth Century	115

Heike Paul

vi | Contents

7.	"On the Brain of the Negro": Race, Abolitionism, and Friedrich Tiedemann's Scientific Discourse on the African Diaspora Jeannette Eileen Jones	134
8.	Liberating Sojourns? African American Travelers in Mid-Nineteenth-Century Germany Mischa Honeck	153
9.	Global Proletarians, Uncle Toms, and Native Savages: Popular German Race Science in the Emancipation Era Bradley Naranch	169
10.	We Shall Make Farmers of Them Yet: Tuskegee's Uplift Ideology in German Togoland Kendahl L. Radcliffe	187
11.	Education and Migration: Cameroonian Schoolchildren and Apprentices in Germany, 1884–1914 Robbie Aitken	213
Afte	erword. Africans in Europe: New Perspectives Dirk Hoerder	231
Sele	ected Bibliography	241
Notes on Contributors		249
Ind	ex	252