Prelude: Reflections on the Title of the Thesis	1
1 Introduction	2
1.1 Problem Definition	2
1.2 Course of Investigation	6
2 A Conceptual View on Enterprise Risk Management: Looking at and Inside the COSO Cube	12
2.1 Globalizing the Idea(l) of Enterprise Risk Management in a Mechanical Manner: COSO ERM and Rubik Cube Game.....	15
2.2 Globalizing the Idea(l) of Enterprise Risk Management Through a Plurality- Emphasizing Narrative: ERM by COSO on 84 Pages.....	17
2.3 COSO ERM: Conceptually a Leergut for Management.....	22
3 Methodology: Studying Enterprise Risk Management as Complex Social Phenomenon	28
3.1 Embracing Complexity as Weltanschauung	29
3.2 From a Mechanical Towards a Complex Social View on Enterprise Risk Management.....	30
3.3 Studying Complex Social Phenomena: A Methodological Question.....	36
3.4 Unleashing Complex Social Phenomena Through a Reflective Act From Practice to Practice	40
3.5 Operationalization of the Reflective Act Pursued in This Thesis.....	50
4 Empirical Studies: Exploring Enterprise Risk Management Work.....	72
4.1 Enterprise Risk Management and Continuous Re-Alignment in the Pursuit of Accountability: A German Case	72
4.1.1 Introduction	73
4.1.2 COSO Enterprise Risk Management	74
4.1.3 Theoretical Coordinates and Research Method	77
4.1.3.1 Theoretical Coordinates	77
4.1.3.2 Research Methods	78
4.1.3.2.1 Research Principles.....	79

4.1.3.2.2 Data Site(s)	79
4.1.3.2.3 Data Collection	80
4.1.3.2.4 Case Production	82
4.1.4 ERM at Company X	83
4.1.4.1 Context: From Conglomeration to Integration	83
4.1.4.1.1 Internal Context	83
4.1.4.1.2 External Context	84
4.1.4.1.3 Integrated Risk Management	85
4.1.4.2 Technologies of Enterprise Risk Management	86
4.1.4.2.1 Network Organization of Risk Management	87
4.1.4.2.2 R2C's Configuration of Risk Management Work	87
4.1.4.2.3 Intended and Unintended Mobilizations	89
4.1.4.2.4 Practice Variations and Qualculations	91
4.1.4.3 Expertise and Subject-Object Relations	92
4.1.4.3.1 Risk Management Procedure	92
4.1.4.3.2 Risk Management Practice	94
4.1.4.3.3 Knowledge Circulation and Object-Subject Separations	95
4.1.4.3.4 Irreducibility of Risk Interactions to Individual Responsibility ...	97
4.1.4.4 Rationales: Compliance or Performance Focus	99
4.1.5 Discussion	102
4.1.5.1 Technologies of Enterprise Risk Management	105
4.1.5.2 (Dis-)Alignment of Expertises, Eventualities and Experts	108
4.1.5.3 Accountability: Stewardship of Everything and Nothing	112
4.1.6 Conclusions	115
4.1.6.1 Practical implications	116
4.1.6.2 Future research	118
Intermezzo #1	129
4.2 Bringing Risk to Control and Control to Risk in Realms of Enterprise Risk Management: The Relation of Objects and Subjects in Linking Risk Management and Management Control	135
4.2.1 Introduction	136
4.2.2 Theoretical Coordinates: The Role of Objects in Sociality	138
4.2.3 Empirical Setting, Data Collection, and Data Analysis	141
4.2.3.1 Empirical Setting	142

4.2.3.2 Data Collection.....	145
4.2.3.3 Data Analysis	146
4.2.4 Case Study: Risk & Control.....	147
4.2.4.1 The Setting for Risk & Control	147
4.2.4.2 Operative Unit Meets Control Unit in the Risk Board.....	151
4.2.4.3 The Role of Objects Facilitating Interaction	156
4.2.4.4 Three Types of Inter-Action Scenarios Observed	162
4.2.5 Discussion: Linking Risk and Control	168
4.2.5.1 Risk Management as Legitimate Space for Addressing De-Personalized and Objectified the Cannot-Achieve-Target	168
4.2.5.2 Keeping up the Image of a Rigid Control Contract, While Gaining Flexibility in Control.....	170
4.2.5.3 Challenging the Legitimate Space? Effect of Absorbing Risks by Control Unit and Appropriating Risk Titles for Justifying Non-Target- Achievement by Operative Unit	171
4.2.5.4 Re-Gaining the Upper Hand? Appropriating Risk Management for Tightening Control Involvement by Control Unit	173
4.2.5.5 Management of Risks Drifts Outside the Inter-Linked Risk Management Sphere, Giving Rise to the Notion of Spheres of Risk Management.....	176
4.2.6 Conclusion	179
Intermezzo #2	191
4.3 Enterprising in Managing Risks: Understanding the Management of Risks by the Practices of a Brewing Network	197
4.3.1 Introduction	198
4.3.2 Risk Management Within and Beyond its Formal Designs: A Debate on its Presence and Absence	201
4.3.3 Theoretical Coordinates: Studying BrewCollab as Site.....	205
4.3.3.1 Data Collection.....	208
4.3.3.2 Iterative Data Analysis	210
4.3.4 Industry and Site Selection	211
4.3.4.1 German Beer Brewing Industry	211
4.3.4.2 Mid-Sized Breweries Suffering Economic Pressure	212
4.3.4.3 BrewCollab as Response to Market Pressures	215

4.3.5 BrewCollab a Site for Managing Risks.....	217
4.3.5.1 BrewCollab and its Members: Silence of Risk (Management) Means its Absence?	217
4.3.5.2 BrewCollab's Practice-Arrangement Bundles and the Management of Risks.....	221
4.3.5.2.1 Voluntary Knowledge Sharing to Reflect on (Managing) Risks	223
4.3.5.2.2 Systematic Resource Pooling to Respond to Risks	226
4.3.5.3 Drawing a First Synthesis: BrewCollab Crafting Reflective and Maneuvering Spaces for Managing Risks	231
4.3.5.4 Members Distance Themselves From BrewCollab's Practice- Arrangement Bundles.....	234
4.3.5.5 Drawing a Second Synthesis: Managing Risks as Coopetitive Modus Operandi	237
4.3.6 Discussion and Conclusion	239
Intermezzo #3	260
5 Discussion and Conclusion: Enterprise Risk Management Transpiring as Construction Site	263
Coda.....	278

Note: References and appendixes, if applicable are provided at the end of each chapter in order to facilitate look up and account for the cumulative nature of the thesis.
