

Contents

Preface	ix
List of Abbreviations	xiii
Introduction: Writing the History of Returnees	1
1: Depicting Returnees: Contested Media Representations in East and West Germany	24
Memory and Media Representations	24
Returnees in German Mass Media—An Overview	26
Returnees as Perpetrators	30
Returnees as Victims	51
Returnees as Heroes	69
Conclusion	88
2: Negotiating Victim Status: The Presence of the Past in Compensation Debates	92
Memory and Politics	92
Negotiating Victim Status in the FRG: The Kriegsgefangenenentschädigungsgesetz	94
Negotiating Victim Status after 1990: The Diversification of Memory Debates in Reunited Germany	112
Conclusion	131
3: Giving Meaning to the Past: Narratives of Transformation and Conversion	133
Memory and Narratives of the Past	133
East German Narratives: Remembered Change and Changes of Remembrance	136
Narratives of Transformation and Conversion in West Germany	152
Common Narratives and Recurring Topoi	166
Conclusion	171

4: Interacting with the Past: Memory Projects of Returnees	175
Memory and Agency	175
Establishing Sites of Memory	176
Building Communities of Remembrance	198
Conducting Autobiographical Projects	219
Conclusion	224
Epilogue: Transmitting Memories—Shaping Postwar Presents	227
Conclusion	229
Notes	237
Bibliography	309
Index	339