

Table of Contents

Vorwort	5
Table of Contents	7
List of Abbreviations	11
Introduction	13
A. Literature review and objectives of inquiry	22
B. The conceptual framework	28
C. Ontology, epistemology and methodology	30
D. Structure of the book	33
Part 1: Understanding EU Foreign Policy	36
1.1 Historical Analysis and Contemporary Outlook	36
1.1.1 The early years of integration (1957-1968)	36
1.1.2 New wind for deepening integration (1969-89)	38
1.1.3 The end of the security vacuum (1990-2000)	42
1.1.4 New sources for legitimacy in the 21 st century (2000-2009)	47
1.1.5 EU foreign policy after Lisbon	49
1.1.5.1 Normative basis	50
1.1.5.2 Institutional and personnel novelties	51
1.1.5.3 Traditional foreign policy: CFSP and CSDP	54
1.1.5.4 Between inside and outside: Enlargement policy	58
1.1.5.5 Economic power and trade	59
1.1.5.6 TFEU – The Treaty’s functional dimension	60
The Common Commercial Policy	61
EU development policy	63
European Neighbourhood Policy and relations with Russia	67
Economic, financial and technical cooperation with third countries	71
Humanitarian aid	73
The right to conclude international agreements	74
	7

1.1.5.7 The MFF and EU budgetary allocations	77
The EU as a global player: Heading 4	79
1.2 Objectives and Features of the EU's Engagement in the World	82
1.2.1 Objectives and goals of EU foreign political activity	86
1.2.1.1 Domestic analogy, milieu goals and the 'cordon sanitaire'	86
1.2.1.2 Europeanisation beyond the EU	89
Domestically-driven Europeanisation	90
EU driven Europeanisation beyond Europe	91
1.2.1.3 External sectoral governance	96
1.2.2 The two strands of EU foreign policy	97
1.2.2.1 Agency-oriented foreign policy	98
The role of conventional diplomacy	98
The role of public diplomacy	99
Multi-Track Diplomacy	102
1.2.2.2 Structural foreign policy	103
1.2.2.3 Striving for global structural power	106
1.2.3 Concluding remarks	108
 Part 2: Understanding EU Higher Education Policy	 113
2.1 EU Higher Education Policy: Historical Embedment	114
2.1.1 Preparing the agenda – initiating the debate (1948-1968)	115
2.1.1.1 Developments outside the Community framework	116
2.1.1.2 Developments inside the Community framework	117
2.1.1.3 Concluding remarks	119
2.1.2 Kick-starting cooperation in education (1969-1982)	120
2.1.2.1 The path towards the first action programme in education	121
2.1.2.2 The Helsinki Accords of 1975 and the CRE	123
2.1.2.3 For a Europe of the people and European identity	124
2.1.2.4 Cooperation in vocational training and other programmes	125
2.1.2.5 Concluding remarks	126
2.1.3 The first EU educational programmes (1983-1988)	126
2.1.3.1 From an area of social policy to an economic concern	127
2.1.3.2 From regional to global concern	128
2.1.3.3 Ending the deadlock to realise the Single Market	128
2.1.3.4 Introducing the first Community programmes in education	129
2.1.3.5 The Single European Act and the Single Market	130
2.1.3.6 Education in development policy	132

2.1.3.7 Concluding remarks	133
2.1.4 Legal, economic and external dimensions of education: The 1990s	134
2.1.4.1 The Treaty of Maastricht	135
2.1.4.2 Introducing an external dimension in higher education	136
2.1.4.3 New directions in education	137
2.1.4.4 Concluding remarks	138
2.1.5 Developments since 2000	140
2.1.5.1 The Lifelong Learning Programme (2007-2013)	141
2.1.5.2 Lisbon Strategy and Europe 2020	141
2.1.5.3 ERASMUS Mundus	145
2.1.5.4 The Bologna Process	146
2.1.6 Summary	148
2.2 European Higher Education Policy Today	152
2.2.1 Programmes during 2007-2013	156
2.2.1.1 The Lifelong Learning Programme	156
The ERASMUS programme	157
The Jean Monnet Programme	160
2.2.1.2 The TEMPUS programme	165
2.2.1.3 The ERASMUS Mundus programme	174
2.2.1.4 Bilateral programmes with industrialised countries	181
EU Centres	183
Regional programmes	188
2.2.2 The Multiannual Financial Framework 2014-2020: ERASMUS+	189
2.2.3 Concluding remarks	193
 Part 3: Linking EU Education and Foreign Policy	 202
3.1 The Role of Public Education for Society and State	202
3.1.1 The role of general education for society and state	203
3.1.2 The role of the university for society and state	206
3.1.2.1 The university from a historical perspective	207
3.1.2.2 The modern understanding of the university	208
3.2 Dimensions of Strategic Action	212
3.2.1 The role of universities in foreign policy	213
3.2.1.1 Motifs	214
3.2.2 Dimensions of hegemony	225
3.3 Dimensions of Communicative Action	228
3.3.1 Dimensions of counter-hegemony	230
3.3.2 The transactionalist dimension	233
3.3.3 Concluding remarks	237

Table of Contents

Conclusion	240
Bibliography	247