

CONTENTS

List of Illustrations	vi
List of Abbreviations	vii
Acknowledgements	x
Foreword by Sir Christopher Clark	xiii
Introduction	1
1 The Public Sphere in Edwardian London	11
2 The Policy of Drift? Balance of Power, Concert of Europe, or Political Power Blocs?	72
3 Safety First: The Politics of Defence and the Realities behind Diplomacy	129
4 Imperial Defence or Continental Commitment?	182
5 Foreign Policy under Lansdowne and Balfour	216
6 The Myth of Continuity: Foreign Policy under Edward Grey	273
7 The Committee of Four: The German Peril Revisited	306
8 At the Cost of Stability: The Anglo-Russian Convention and its European Implications	344
9 'More Russian than the Russians'? British Balkan Diplomacy and the Annexation of Bosnia 1908/9	401
Conclusion and Perspectives: The Triad of British Foreign Politics	462
Bibliography	483
Index	521