

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Introduction: European Economic Integration in International and Historical Perspective	1
Richard Tilly and Paul J.J. Welfens
A. European Economic Integration: Did it Matter in the Past, Will it Matter in the Future?	29
C.W.A.M. van Paridon
1. Introduction	29
2. European Integration So Far	30
2.1 The Beginning	30
2.2 1958-1973: "Did the EEC Matter: Yes, to a Certain Extent..."	32
2.3 1973-1985: "Did the EC Matter: No, not Really..."	36
2.4 After 1985: "Did the EC Matter: Yes, but How Much ..?"	41
2.5 1960-1993: "Did the EU Matter: Not Really, it Seems ..."	47
3. European Integration in a Changing World Economy	51
3.1 The Current Situation	51
3.2 Europe's Future in Scenario	55
3.3 Europe's Economic Future: Ability to Change	60
4. Conclusion	63
A*. Comments: Christoph Buchheim	67
B. European Economic Integration: Employment, Unemployment and Migration	71
Heinz Werner
1. Background	71
2. How Did European Integration Develop ?	73
3. Migration of Labour in the European Community: The Effect of Free Movement	81
4. Why Do Workers Migrate? - Determinants of Labour Migration	84
5. What Type of Migration in the European Union ?	86
6. The Big Question: The Future of Immigration from Eastern Europe and Third World Countries	89
B*. Comments: Hans-Peter Klös	97

C. The EU Facing Economic Opening-Up in Eastern Europe: Problems, Issues and Policy Options 103

Paul J.J. Welfens

1. Introduction	103
2. The East European Transformation Process	106
2.1 The Transforming Process and Economic Opening-up	107
2.2 Transformation and Economic Growth	124
3. Integrating Eastern Europe with Western Europe	125
3.1 Lessons from the Southern EC-enlargement: Iberian Fiesta vs. Greek Tragedy	132
3.2 EU Financial Transfer Burden in the Context of an Eastern Enlargement	135
3.3 The Need for Structural Adjustment	143
3.4 Adjustments Needs for Eastern Europe	144
4. Policy Options	153
4.1 Overcoming EU Problems: Restoring Political Efficiency and Full Employment	153
4.2 Achieving High Economic Growth in Transforming Economies	157
Appendix	162

C*. Comments: Zdeněk Hrubý 173

D. Protectionism in Europe before 1939 181

Forrest Copie

1. Introduction	181
1.1 Pattern of Protection in the World Economy	181
2. Measuring Protection	184
2.1 Nineteenth Century Protection	185
2.2 Interwar Protection	187
2.3 The Longer-Run Perspective	193
2.4 International Trade	203
3. Summary	205

D*. Comments: Wolfram Fischer 207

E. Structural Adjustment and Growth Policies in Europe: Competition and/or Cooperation?	211
Wolfgang Maennig and Helmut Wagner
1. Introduction	211
2. The European Structural and Growth Problem and Recent Economic-political Conceptions	212
2.1 Structural and Growth Problems as Causes of the European Employment Crisis	212
2.2 Selected National and International Conceptions on Growth and Structural Adjustment Policies	220
2.2.1 The EU-"White Paper" for Growth, Competitiveness and Employment	220
2.2.2 The German Action Program for More Growth and Employment	223
3. New Growth Theory and Structural Adjustment Policy	225
3.1 The NGT Approach	225
3.1.1 Models of "Learning by Doing"	226
3.1.2 Models of "Invention"	229
3.2 Welfare-theoretical Implications	231
3.3 Limitations of NGT	233
4. Problems of Growth and Structural Adjustment Policies and International Coordination	234
4.1 National Efficiency of Sectoral Structural Adjustment Policy	235
4.2 International Spillover Effects of Structural Adjustment Policies	239
4.3 International Coordination of the Structural Adjustment Policy	242
5. Summary	244
Appendix	252
 E*. Comments: Dimitri Marclas	 263
 F. International Capital Flows and Political Transition in Europe: Historical Perspectives	 265
Larry Neal
1. Introduction	265
2. Tax Structure Change during Political Transition	268
3. The Prussian Experience	271
4. The Japanese Experience	275
5. Implications for International Capital Markets	277
6. Implications for National Tax Policies	283
7. Conclusion	286

F*. Comments: Peter Hertner	291
 G. Germany's Changing Competitive Position in World Markets: Required Policy Shifts	 297
Michael Heise
1. Introduction	297
2. Is the Concept of International Competitiveness a Dangerous Obsession?	297
3. Is Germany's Competitive Position Deteriorating?	302
4. Necessary Policy Shifts	310
 G*. Comments: Karl-Hans Hartwig	 321
 H. Financial Regulation and the Banks' Role in European Economies	 325
Hildegard Breig
1. Introduction	325
2. Financial Regulation in Retrospective	327
3. Real Effects of Bank Services	328
4. The Heterogeneity of European Financial Systems: The Example of France versus Germany	331
5. European Financial Integration and Bank Behavior	335
5.1 The Policy of Liberalization and Deregulation in European Banking	335
5.2 Limits of Competition in Banking	339
6. Implications for Banking in Central and Eastern Europe	342
 H*. Comments: Sonja Daltung	 349
1. Implications of the Role of Banks for Financial Regulation	349
2. Effects of Increased Competition in Banking	351
 I. Sterling in Decline Again: The 1931 and 1992 Crises Compared	 355
Barry Eichengreen and Chang-Tai Hsieh
1. Introduction	355
2. Background	357
3. Factors in the Crises	362
3.1 The Overvaluation Problem	362
3.2 The Unemployment Problem	364
3.3 The Political Situation	367
3.4 Reluctance to Use the Discount Rate	369

4. Market Expectations of Devaluation	372
5. The International Situation	382
6. Conclusion	385
I*. Comments: Manfred Borchert and Martin Leschke	393
 J. Banks and Industry: Lessons from History?	397
Richard Tilly
1. Introduction	397
2. Banking and Industry: A Survey of the Literature	398
3. The German Case: From 1850 to Today	405
3.1 The Age of Industrialization	405
3.2 The Interwar Period	413
3.3 Western Germany in the Postwar Period	417
4. Summary and Some Conclusions on "Lessons of History"	425
 K. Banks and Industry in Anglo-German Perspective	437
William P. Kennedy
1. Introduction: The Issues at Stake	430
2. Banks and Financial Markets in the Age of Industrialization	438
3. The Interwar Period	447
4. Western Germany in the Postwar Period	451
5. Conclusion	457
 L. Russia and Europe: Lessons from the Pre-Command Era	461
Paul R. Gregory
1. Russia and Europe: A Century's Perspective	461
2. Russia and Europe Prior to 1917	462
2.1 The Gold Standard	463
2.2 Industrial Policy?	464
2.3 Foreign Capital in Russia	466
2.4 Financing of Foreign Investment	468
2.5 Russian Rates of Return	472
2.6 Russia's Capital Requirements	473
2.7 Integration into the World Economy	475
3. From Revolution to Five Year Plan	480
4. The Administrative-Command Era	483

5. The Present: Lessons and Legacies	485
L*. Comments: Christian Meier	493
1. Access to Foreign Capital	493
2. Volume of Investment	494
3. „The Need for Higher Returns to Compensate for Higher Risks"	495
4. Foreign Direct Investment in Mid-term Perspective	495
M. External Liberalization in a Large Country: The Contribution to the Transition Process in Russia	497
Volkhart Vincentz
1. Introduction	497
2. The Russian Trade Regime	498
3. External Liberalization and Stabilization	500
4. External Liberalization in a Large, Transforming Country	504
4.1 Liberalization, Transformation and Size	504
4.2 Initial Effects of Moving to World Prices and the Adjustment Problem	505
4.3 Import Competition	509
4.4 Separated Markets and Supply Response	514
4.5 Exports and Market Power	517
5. Concluding Remarks	520
M*. Comments: Horst Brezinski	525
List of Tables	531
List of Figures	535
Index	537
List of Authors/Conference Participants	557