

Table of Contents

1 Introduction	1
2 The Story of Australian English	9
2.1 Language Change, Variety Formation and Attitudes	9
2.1.1 "Dialects in Contact"	9
2.1.2 "The Dynamics of New Englishes"	13
2.1.3 Attitudinal Responses to English in Australia and AusE	14
2.2 A Tentative Start – The Penal Colony (1788-1825)	15
2.2.1 Political and Cultural History	15
2.2.2 Demography and Society	18
2.2.2.1 Immigration, Natural Increase and Migration	18
2.2.2.2 Select Social Groups and Speech Communities	21
2.2.3 Status Quo and Developments in Language	25
2.2.3.1 Lexis and Phonology	26
2.2.3.2 The Formation of Koiné-Broad	27
2.2.3.3 The Centre of Koinéization and Early Homogeneity	28
2.2.3.4 From Koiné-Broad to Proto-Broad	29
2.3 A Firmer Stand – Settlers and Emancipists (1826-1850)	30
2.3.1 Political and Cultural History	30
2.3.2 Demography and Society	33
2.3.2.1 Immigration, Natural Increase and Migration	33
2.3.2.2 Select Social Groups and Speech Communities	34
2.3.3 Status Quo and Developments in Language	37
2.3.3.1 Lexis and Phonology	37
2.3.3.2 The Spread of Koiné- and Proto-Broad	39
2.4 Years of Growth - The Impact of the Gold Rushes (1851-75)	40
2.4.1 Political and Cultural History	40
2.4.2 Demography and Society	42
2.4.2.1 Immigration, Natural Increase and Migration	42
2.4.2.2 Select Social Groups and Speech Communities	44
2.4.3 Status Quo and Developments in Language	46
2.4.3.1 Lexis and Phonology	46
2.4.3.2 Growing National Feelings and an Openness to Change	49
2.4.3.3 The Second Cycle of Transported Dialects	50

2.4.3.4 Koiné- and Proto-General and the Survival of Proto-Broad	50
2.5 Coming of Age – Nativization and Urbanization (1876-1900)	52
2.5.1 Political and Cultural History	52
2.5.2 Demography and Society	54
2.5.2.1 Immigration, Natural Increase and Migration	54
2.5.2.2 Select Social Groups and Speech Communities	55
2.5.3 Status Quo and Developments in Language	56
2.5.3.1 Lexis and Phonology	56
2.5.3.2 Koiné- and Proto-Cultivated	60
2.5.3.3 Maturation and Uniformity	61
3 A Corpus of OZ Early English (COOEE)	63
3.1 Building a Historical Corpus of AusE	63
3.1.1 A Survey of Select Corpora and their Designs	63
3.1.2 Data Collection, Editing and Coding	65
3.2 Designing a Corpus: From Data to COOEE	69
3.3 A Description of COOEE	70
3.3.1 Properties of the Texts	71
3.3.1.1 The Speech-Based Register and its Text Types	71
3.3.1.2 The Private Written Register and its Text Types	73
3.3.1.3 The Public Written Register and its Text Types	74
3.3.1.4 The Government English Register and its Text Types	76
3.3.2 The Authors	77
3.4 A Description of the Reference Texts	78
4 Studies of COOEE	81
4.1 Lexis	82
4.1.1 Aborigines, Aboriginal Life and Language Contact	83
4.1.1.1 Weapons and Implements	86
4.1.1.2 Dwellings and Temporary Shelters	88
4.1.1.3 Daily Life, Features of Landscape and Ceremonies	89
4.1.1.4 Pidgin and Creole Terms	90
4.1.1.5 Terms Designating People	91

4.1.2 Naming Australian Wildlife and the Land	95
4.1.2.1 Flora	97
4.1.2.2 Fauna	100
4.1.2.3 Features of Landscape	103
4.1.3 Convicts and Bushrangers	107
4.1.3.1 Terms for Convicts and Criminals	108
4.1.3.2 Terms for Ex- and Non-Convicts	113
4.1.3.3 Criminal Activities	115
4.1.3.4 Punishment and Punishers	116
4.1.3.5 Daily Life	117
4.1.4 Up the Bush	119
4.1.4.1 Working the Land	119
4.1.4.2 Working with Animals	121
4.1.4.3 Life on a Run	124
4.1.4.4 Waltzing Matilda	128
4.1.5 Gold! Gold! Gold!	129
4.1.5.1 Mines and Mining	130
4.1.5.2 The Diggers	135
4.1.6 Life in the City	137
4.1.6.1 Mates and Sheilas	138
4.1.6.2 Leisure and Living	144
4.1.6.3 Social Interaction	146
4.1.6.4 Work and Money	151
4.1.6.5 The Great Australian Slangue	155
4.1.7 The American Connection	156
4.1.7.1 The Surveying of Land and Settlement	157
4.1.7.2 Bush Life	161
4.1.7.3 Vehicles and Roads	164
4.2 Aspects of Morphology	167
4.2.1 Derivational Morphology	167
4.2.1.1 The Suffixes <ie>/<y> vs. <o>	167
4.2.1.2 The Suffix <*roo>	171
4.2.1.3 The Suffix <ee>	173
4.2.1.4 Reduplication	176
4.2.1.5 Compounds with native and bush	178
4.2.2 Inflectional Morphology	180
4.2.2.1 Present Tense –s	180
4.2.2.2 Was and Were	185

4.2.2.3 Past Formation with -ed vs. -t	188
4.2.2.4 Regularizations	193
4.2.2.5 Verbs with Variable -en Past Participle	195
4.2.2.6 Verbs with -ed and Vowel Change or Zero Past Forms	197
4.3 Investigations of Word Classes and Syntax	200
4.3.1 Pronouns	200
4.3.1.1 Thou , thee , thy and thine	200
4.3.1.2 Ye , yea and yee	202
4.3.1.3 Yous , yee and you all	204
4.3.2 Conjunctions and Prepositions	209
4.3.2.1 Adverbial but	209
4.3.2.2 And as a Subordinator	210
4.3.2.3 As as a Relative Pronoun	213
4.3.3 Verbal Concord with Collective Nouns	216
4.3.3.1 Findings from COOEE	218
4.3.3.2 Comparisons with 19 th - and 20 th -century Englishes	220
4.3.4 The Progressive	224
4.3.4.1 Overall Frequencies in COOEE	226
4.3.4.2 Special Forms of the Progressive	229
4.3.4.3 Comparisons with 19 th - and 20 th -century Englishes	230
4.3.5 The Mandative Subjunctive	232
4.3.5.1 Findings from COOEE	233
4.3.5.2 Evolution of the Mandative Subjunctive in AusE	236
4.3.5.3 Comparisons with 19 th - and 20 th -century Englishes	239
5 Conclusion	243
List of References	249
Corpus Sources	249
References	255
Appendix	269