

Contents

Preface	7
Part I: Models of peace journalism
1 News coverage of conflict: Between escalation and de-escalation Wilhelm Kempf	11
2 Peace journalism: What, why, who, how, when, where? Johan Galtung	19
3 Constructive conflict coverage: A social-psychological approach Wilhelm Kempf	34
Part II: Criticism of the peace journalism project
4 Good journalism or peace journalism? David Loyn	53
5 Situating peace journalism in journalism studies: A critical appraisal Thomas Hanitzsch	69
Part III: Peace journalism responds
6 Peace journalism and its discontents Jake Lynch	83
7 In defense of peace journalism: A rejoinder Samuel Peleg	104
Part IV: Counterpleas
8 Good journalism or peace journalism? – Counterplea by David Loyn	119
9 It should be fair to criticize even noble ideas – Counterplea by Thomas Hanitzsch	127

10	It seems that we are captured in the heat of combat – Counterplea by Samuel Peleg	133
11	A reply to the replies – Counterplea by Jake Lynch.	137

Part V: Synthesis

12	Peace journalism: A tightrope walk between advocacy journalism and constructive conflict coverage Wilhelm Kempf	145
----	---	-----

References	157
----------------------	-----

Sources	168
-------------------	-----

Appendix

About the authors.	169
Index.	171