Table of contents

Martin G. Becker & Eva-Maria Remberger
Modality and Mood in Romance: An introduction ............. 1

I. Modal interpretation

Hardarik Blühdorn & Tinka Reichmann
Modal readings of sentence connectives in German and Portuguese .................................................. 15

Sarah Dessi Schmid
‘Modal uses’ of the Italian imperfetto and the Spanish imperfecto: a comparison ........................................ 39

Ion Giurgea & Elena Soare
Modal non-finite relatives in Romance .......................... 67

Gerda Haßler
Epistemic modality and evidentiality and their determination on a deictic basis ........................................ 95

Mario Squartini
Where mood, modality and illocution meet: the morphosyntax of Romance conjectures ........................... 109

II. Mood selection and mood alternation

Rui Marques
Modality, context change potential and mood selection in European Portuguese ........................................ 133

Josep Quer
On the (un)stability of mood distribution in Romance ........ 163
Jan Lindschouw
Grammaticalization and language comparison in the Romance mood system .............................................. 181

Martin G. Becker
Principles of mood change in evaluative contexts:
the case of French ......................................................... 209

Appendix

Name index ................................................................. 235
Subject index .............................................................. 239