Contents

Abbreviations
ix

Introduction
xi

Independence and Freedom
xii

As a Dissenter
xiii

The Root of Freedom for Criticism
xv

Contemporary
xvii

1. Life and Work
1
- Locality, Individuality, Personality
  4
- Socrates in Königsberg
  7
- Physiognomy of the Writings
  13

2. Style and Form
19
- Rhetoric and Romanticism
  19
- Speech Is Action
  22
- Alienation
  26
- Form: Flying Leaves
  28
- System as a Hindrance to Truth
  31
- Documents of Finite Reason
  33
- Negotiation Discourses
  36
CONTENTS

The Form of the Review 38
Reviewer with Reservation 39

3. Original Motif 42
Against Monarchic Reason and Deadly Separation 43
Individuality and Sociality 46
“Thoughts about My Life-Story” 49
Entangled in Histories 51
The Poet of the World 54
God as the Author of My Life History 60
The Bible as Historical A Priori 63

4. The Modern Concept of Nature in Crisis 67
The Book of Nature and of History 70
The World as Text 72
The Ruined Language of Nature 78
God’s Nearness and Distance 78
Tyrannizing and Redivinizing Nature 81

5. Freedom as a Fundamental Concept of Anthropology 87
(Herder–Hamann) 89
Herder’s Treatise on the Origin of Language 89
Human and Animal 90
Language as Compensation 92
Awareness as the Fundamental Concept of Herder’s Anthropology 93
Remembering and Inventing 95
Hamann’s “Philological Ideas” 96
Divine and Human Simultaneously 97
Learning Is Neither Mere Invention nor Mere Remembrance 98
Hamann’s Understanding of Learning 100
Freedom Given in Advance 101
Contents

6. Criticism and Politics
(Hamann–Herder–Frederick the Great)
- The Fissure of Sin 106
- Judicial and Administrative Dignity 108
- Dependence and Autonomy 110
- Beyond Materialism and Idealism 112
- To Frederick the Great 113

7. What Is Enlightenment?
(Kant–Hamann)
- Philosophical Claim and Reality 118
- Self-Inflicted Guardianship 121
- Public and Private Reason 123
- Immaturity and Guardianship 125

8. History and Reason
(Reimarus–Lessing–Mendelssohn–Hamann)
- The Age of Criticism 129
- The Fragments Dispute 133
- Natural and Positive Religion 134
- Lessing's Proof of the Spirit and of Power 138
- Truth as "Daughter of Time" 141
- Historical Truths of Future Times 143
- The Old Testament as the Historical A Priori of Knowledge 147
- Impure Word and Pure Spirit 151

9. Reason Is Language
(Hamann–Kant)
- Conflict of Languages 158
- Translation as Action 162
- God, the Poet 168
CONTENTS

10. Natural Right and Social Life
* (Mendelssohn and Hamann)
  - Claimant of Right or Trustee of Nature
  - Nature and Society
  - Natural Contract

11. “Essay of a Sibyl on Marriage”
  - God and Sex
  - Sensuousness and Morality
  - Mythical Tale of Self-Knowledge
  - Love and Death

12. Created Time
  - Time and Space
  - Time and Ethos
  - The “Moment”
  - Call and Response
  - The Present as Foundation and Reason for Past and Future
  - The Understanding of Time and the Concept of Science

Translators’ Epilogue
  - Hamann’s Life: A Brief Sketch
  - Against Kant’s View of Immaturity
  - Against Kant’s Purism of Reason
  - Freeing Theology from Kant
  - The Bible as the Key to Nature and History
  - Hamann’s Relevance for Theology Today

Appendix: Chronological Table

Index of Persons

Index of Scripture References