Table of Contents

Wolfgang F Finke
1. Why does Afghanistan need Open Source systems?.................................1

Michael Weinhara
2. Open Source Systems in Health Care Management..................................19

Sundeep Sahay and Johan Ivar Sæbø
3. Potential for Afghan participation in a global FOSS community of the health sector: National, regional and global opportunities.................................24

Frank B. Brokken
4. OpenSource Systems in Public Universities – Current state and some history ..................................................................................................................33

Frank Siebert
5. Opensource Systems in City Management - From simple templates to business applications - how Open Source software improves public administration........................................................................................................41

Matthias Stürmer
6. Organizational Structures within the Open Source Community...................54

Frank B. Brokken
7. Open Source in Mixed Environments - Using Open Source to improve security and throughput.................................................................61

Frank Siebert
8. TechSession: Web-Centric Application Development - an OpenSource framework for business applications in public administration ......................73

Daniel Brunner
9. The OpenJustitia Project at the Swiss Federal Supreme Court...............87

Speakers............................................................................................................91