CONTENTS

Preface 7

I. Prologue 10

II. The Status Quo 14

1. Democratic Elements in the Lisbon Treaty 14
   a. Developments regarding democracy 14
   b. The codification of the two-tier structure of legitimacy 17
   c. Strengthening participatory democracy 18
   d. The European Citizens’ Initiative 20

2. The Debate in the Political Science and Legal Communities on the Development and Deficits of European Democracy 22
   a. The «no demos» theory – a collectivist understanding of democracy 23
   b. Democracy beyond the state: An individualistic view of democracy 24
   c. The middle ground: Vibrant democracy 27

III. Proposals for Developing European Democracy 31

1. Contexts 32
   a. Politics and law 32
   b. Organisation and the public 34
   c. Adapting to a changed framework 37

2. Political Demands 39
   a. Electoral law 39
   b. European political parties 43
   c. Elements of direct democracy 48
   d. A democratic public 51
   e. Strengthening European Institutions 55
   f. Strengthening national institutions 64
   g. Strengthening participatory rights 69

3. Bidding Farewell to Doomsday Projections 72

The Members of the Editorial Board 74