Contents

List of Tables, Figures, Graphs, and Maps  page xi
List of Abbreviations  xv
Acknowledgments  xix

PART I. THEORETICAL FRAMEWORK AND EMPIRICAL OVERVIEW

1 Regimes of Ethnicity: Comparative Analysis of Germany, the Soviet Union, Post-Soviet Russia, and Turkey  3

PART II. GERMANY

2 The Challenges to the Monoethnic Regime in Germany, 1955–1982  47
3 The Construction of an Assimilationist Discourse and Political Hegemony: Transition from a Monoethnic to an Antiethnic Regime in Germany, 1982–2000  74

PART III. TURKEY

4 Challenges to the Ethnicity Regime in Turkey: Alevi and Kurdish Demands for Recognition, 1923–1980  117
5 From Social Democracy to Islamic Multiculturalism: Failed and Successful Attempts to Reform the Ethnicity Regime in Turkey, 1980–2009  163

PART IV. SOVIET UNION AND THE RUSSIAN FEDERATION

6 The Nation That Wasn’t There? Sovetskii Narod Discourse, Nation Building, and Passport Ethnicity, 1953–1983  197
PART V. CONCLUSION

8  Dynamics of Persistence and Change in Ethnicity Regimes  261

Bibliography  275

Index  295