Contents

Abbreviations

Executive summary 1

1 Introduction 3

2 Why combatants struggle to reintegrate into civilian life 4

3 The rise of disarmament, demobilisation and reintegration programmes 6

4 Three letters, one goal: disarmament, demobilisation and reintegration in practice 9
  4.1 Disarmament 10
  4.2 Demobilisation 13
  4.3 Reintegration 13

5 Successes and failures: a mixed track record 15

6 When does DDR work? 17
  6.1 The macro level: the broader context 17
  6.1.1 Economic factors 17
  6.1.2 Political context: regime type and state capacity 18
  6.1.3 A wider recovery strategy 20
  6.1.4 Third-party actors 20
  6.1.5 State of the conflict 22
  6.2 The meso level: the actual programme 23
  6.2.1 Timing 23
  6.2.2 Sequencing and incomplete programmes 23
  6.2.3 Child soldiers 24
  6.2.4 Eligible groups 24
  6.2.5 Tailored assistance 24
  6.3 The micro level: individuals 25
  6.3.1 Participants vs. non-participants 25
  6.3.2 Sociometric characteristics 26
  6.3.3 Traumatisation and other psychological problems 28
  6.3.4 Personal wartime experiences 30

7 Conclusion and practical implications 30

Bibliography 33