Contents

Contributors ix
Acknowledgments xi
Introduction 1
Thomas W. Maulucci, Jr.

PART ONE: STRATEGY AND POLITICS

1 Guarantors of Peace and Freedom: The U.S. Forces in Germany, 1945–1990 37
Hans-Joachim Harder

Bruno Thoß

3 The War That Was Never Fought: The U.S. Army, the Bundeswehr, and the NATO Central Front 73
Dennis Showalter

4 Why They Did Not Go Home: The GIs and the Battle over Their Presence in the 1960s and 1970s 96
Hubert Zimmermann

PART TWO: MILITARY COMMUNITIES

5 U.S. Army Military Communities in Germany 121
Thomas Leuerer

6 German–American Relations at the Local Level: Heidelberg, 1948–1955 142
Theodor Scharnholz
Donna Alvah

PART THREE: TENSIONS BETWEEN NEIGHBORS

8 Insolent Occupiers, Aggressive Protectors: Policing GI Delinquency in Early 1950s West Germany 189
Gerhard Fürmetz

9 Protection from the Protector: Court-Martial Cases and the Lawlessness of Occupation in American-Controlled Berlin, 1945–1948 212
Jennifer V. Evans

PART FOUR: THE GERMAN ARMED FORCES AND THE AMERICAN MODEL

10 The Godfathers of Innere Führung?: The American Military Model and the Creation of the Bundeswehr 237
Klaus Naumann

11 From Befehlsvorsteuerung to “Briefing”: The Americanization of the Luftwaffe 252
Wolfgang Schmidt

12 “Army in Anguish”: The U.S. Army, Europe, in the Early 1970s 273
Alexander Vazansky

Howard J. De Nike

14 The U.S. Armed Forces and the Development of Anti-NATO Protests in West Germany, 1980–1989 311
Anni P. Baker

15 GIs under Siege: The German Peace Movement Confronts the U.S. Military 330
Lou Marin

Dewey A. Browder

Select Bibliography 353

Index 359