

CONTENTS

GENERAL INTRODUCTION 9

PART I

Justice as Equilibrium throughout History

INTRODUCTION 21

1 Emergence of the Requirement of Justice 23

- Primitive Societies: Keeping the Balance 24
- Egypt of Pharaoh: Submission to a Cosmic Equilibrium 29
- *Mesopotamia: Cooperative Behaviour
to Maintain Prosperity's Order* 33
- Indo-European Societies: Searching for the Common Denominator 37
- The Americas: Arbitrating between Present and Future 40

2 Justice's Major Platforms 45

- The Hebraic Law: Social Equilibrium by Mutual Honesty 46
- The Athenian Democracy: Establishing Political Equality 51
- The Roman Republic: The Calculus of Political Concessions .. 56
- Islam: The Divine and the Practical Equilibriums 62
- China and India: Quest for Universal Harmony 67

3 Justice within Human Rights 75

- Christianity and the New Requirements of Justice 76
- Dynamic versus Immutable Equilibrium 81
- The Struggles against Inequalities 87
- Confirmation of the Democratic Solution 93
- The Era of Human Rights 98

CONCLUDING REMARKS

The Indicator of Justice 104

PART II

Case-Studies on Justice and Equilibriums

INTRODUCTION	111
4 Judges' Balancing Exercise	115
– Selecting what Matters	116
– Weighing the Relevant Elements	121
– No Less, no More	128
– Integrating within the Global Order	135
– No Better Solution Is Possible	142
5 The Calculus of Social Harmonization	151
– Ethical Standards to Evaluate Social Cases	152
– Reciprocal Empathy to Make Coordination of Behaviours Possible	159
– Using Practical Equality to Resolve Issues Arising from Cooperation	162
– Sublimating Individual Interests into Defendable Social Values	166
– Applying Generalization Tests to Find the Most Acceptable Solution	169
6 Equilibrating the Forces of Attraction and Repulsion	173
– Reciprocity: How it Works among Primates	174
– Regulation: How Animals Use Social Roles, Priority and Property Rights	177
– Cooperation: How Life Uses It to Face Competition	181
– Order: How It Emerges Spontaneously	186
– Best Strategy Selection: How Equilibrium Appears as a Logical Requirement	190
CONCLUDING REMARKS
The Stabiliser of Interactions	197

PART III

The Shaping of Fair Balance Solutions

INTRODUCTION	205
7 Principles of Justice and the Reasons for their Mixing	207
– Theories of Justice Compatible with a Pluralistic Society . . .	208
– Equality, Moral Hazard and the Enslavement of the Talented	212
– Maximizing Utility, Lack of Information and Uncertainty . . .	217
– The Social Contract Theories, Free Riders and Externalities . .	222
– Mixing the Principles of Justice	228
8 Metrics and Dialectics for a Reflective Equilibrium	235
– The Decision as Adjustment	236
– Game Theory's Equilibriums	240
– Emergence of Generalised Reciprocity	245
– Metrics for Trade-Off Exercises	249
– Dialectics of Conciliation	253
9 Social Institutions as Equilibrium Setting Tools . . .	261
– Family: Reconciling Altruism with Self-Interest	262
– The State: Neutralizing Arbitrary Forces	266
– Accountability: Supporting the Network of Reciprocities . . .	269
– Free Market: Maximizing Economic Efficiency	272
– Democracy: Consenting to Burdens and Benefits	278
CONCLUDING REMARKS
The Invariable Structure	284