Table of Contents

Foreword ........................................................................................................................................... V
Institutional Profile: MCI Management Center Innsbruck ............................................................... VII
Abstract ............................................................................................................................................. IX
Table of Contents ............................................................................................................................... XI
Table of Figures ................................................................................................................................. XV
Table of Abbreviations ....................................................................................................................... XVII

1 Introduction ................................................................................................................................. 1
1.1 Problem Definition ................................................................................................................... 1
1.2 Objectives and Research Questions ......................................................................................... 2
1.3 Methodology and Intended Research Methods ...................................................................... 3

2 State Liability in Damages Before Francovich ........................................................................... 6
2.1 Foundations of State Liability in Community Law ............................................................... 6
  2.1.1 Duty of Sincere Cooperation ............................................................................................ 6
  2.1.2 Infringement Proceedings ............................................................................................... 6
  2.1.3 Judicial Protection of Individual Rights .......................................................................... 8
  2.1.4 Direct Effect of Community Law .................................................................................... 8
2.2 In Search of a Legal Basis for State Liability ........................................................................ 10
  2.2.1 First Declaration of State Liability ................................................................................ 11
  2.2.2 Early Recognition of State Liability ............................................................................. 12
  2.2.3 Reliance on National Systems of Liability .................................................................. 14
2.3 Concluding Observations ....................................................................................................... 19

3 The Seminal Francovich Judgment on State Liability ............................................................... 22
3.1 Factual and Procedural Background ....................................................................................... 22
3.2 Judgment of the Court ............................................................................................................ 24
  3.2.1 Direct Effect of the Directive ......................................................................................... 24
  3.2.2 Liability of the State for Breaches of Community Law ............................................... 25
  3.2.3 Conditions for State Liability Under Francovich ....................................................... 26
3.3 Concluding Observations ....................................................................................................... 29
Table of Contents

4 Conditions for Implementing State Liability: Brasserie du Pêcheur / Factortame III

4.1 Factual and Procedural Background

4.2 Judgment of the Court

4.2.1 Revisiting the Principle of State Liability

4.2.2 Conditions for Incurring Liability

4.2.3 Determination of Breach

4.2.4 National Law and Remedies

4.2.5 Role of Fault

4.2.6 Quantum of Damages

4.2.7 Temporal Effect

4.3 Concluding Observations

5 Development of Case Law After the Brasserie Judgment

5.1 Clarification of the Brasserie Conditions of State Liability

5.1.1 Second Condition: Sufficiently Serious Breach

5.1.2 Third Condition: Direct Causal Link

5.1.3 First Condition: Conferral of Individual Rights

5.2 Deference to National Courts

5.3 Compatibility of National Rules of Procedure

5.3.1 Time Limits and Rules of Evidence

5.3.2 Demarcation of Liability Between State Bodies

5.3.3 Additional Requirements for State Liability

5.3.4 Choice of Legal Remedies and Conduct of Claimant

6 Liability for Judicial Breaches of European Law

6.1 Extension of the Francovich Principle in Köbler v. Austria

6.1.1 Factual and Procedural Background

6.1.2 Judgment of the Court

6.1.3 Concluding Observations

6.2 Affirmation of the Köbler Doctrine in Traghetti del Mediterraneo

6.2.1 Factual and Procedural Background

6.2.2 Judgment of the Court

6.2.3 Concluding observations

7 Liability of Individuals for Breach of European Law

7.1 The Banks Situation

7.2 The Courage Doctrine

7.3 Manfredi as a Private Brasserie

7.4 Concluding Observations