

Table of Contents

Preface.....	7
PART I: POLISH DILEMMAS: PRACTICE AND THEORY	9
Chapter 1: Two Dimensions of History: An Opening Sketch	11
Chapter 2: History as a Space for Dialogue.....	55
Chapter 3: Poland's Kresy (Eastern Borderlands): Realms of Memory in the Process of Cultural Reproduction	79
Chapter 4: Constructing Memory: A Semantic Analysis of Polish Celebrations on the Anniversary of Grunwald	109
Chapter 5: Stefan Czarnowski and the Continued Relevance of his Theories in Contemporary Historical Thought: A Sketch Portrait of a Sociologist.....	125
PART II: POLES AND GERMANS: THEORY	167
Chapter 1: "The Other Side of Memory": Historical Experiences and their Remembrance in Central-Eastern Europe	169
Chapter 2: Realms of Memory (lieux de mémoire) in the Context of German-Polish Relations.....	179
Chapter 3: Quo Vadis Regional History?.....	199
Chapter 4: Cultural Memory – Communicative Memory: Theory and Practice in the Work of Jan Assmann.....	205
Chapter 5: Golo Mann: A Turn Toward Narrative History and an "Obsession with Germany"	217

PART III: POLES AND GERMANS: THE EMPIRICAL WORLD.....	225
Chapter 1: On Germans “Mine” and “Not Mine”: A Personal Case Study	227
Chapter 2: In Search of a “Portable Homeland”: Poles in Multi-cultural Berlin.....	243
Chapter 3: Warmia/Ermland in the Nineteenth and Twentieth Centuries: A Sketch Portrait of the Village of Purda Wielka as a Backdrop.....	257
Chapter 4: Collective Memory and Cultural Landscape: Reflections on a War Cemetery Restoration Project in Drwęck (Dröbnitz).....	265
Chapter 5: “You Glorify the Foreign, but You Do Not Know Your Own”: The Magic of Place and the Mythologizing of Landscape as Factors in National Education in the First Half of the Twentieth Century. The Case of East Prussia.....	275
Chapter 6: The “Landscape after Battle”: The Political Cult of the Fallen in Poland after World War II.....	305
Chapter 7: “It Was Only a Film!”: Three Images of Conflicts and Dialogues of Memory.....	313
Index	327