Table of Contents

Acknowledgments .............................................................. 7
Ruth Schwarzhaupt: Coincidence? ........................................... 8
Foreword:
Letters as Evidence of Heroism in the Face of Danger ...................... 10

My Beloved Children!

The Last Message from Hella Schwarzhaupt .................................. 12
From Munich to Konstanz ....................................................... 14
The Years in Konstanz ............................................................ 17
Hella Schwarzhaupt – the Family’s Anchor .................................. 19
The Last Years in Konstanz: The Persecution Intensifies ...................... 21
The Relocation of Max and Ruth to Switzerland .............................. 22
The Deportation of Albert and Hella Schwarzhaupt to Detention Camps in Southern France .................................................. 26
Inhumane Conditions at Camp Gurs ........................................ 31
“Would it be possible for you to get me matzoh…” .......................... 35
Le Récébédo – a Failed Concept for Humanizing the Camps .................. 37
The Imminent Death of Albert Schwarzhaupt in Récébédo ................... 40
Max and Ruth in the Refugee House Waldeck in Langenbruck ............. 43
Hella’s Life in Récébédo after the Death of her Husband .................. 50
The Last Days in Récébédo ...................................................... 53
Deceptive Interludes during the Deportations ................................ 56
The Course of Events of the Third Deportation from Récébédo .............. 57
“I leave reassured, knowing that my children are taken care of.” ........... 59
From Récébédo to Drancy in the Occupied Zone ............................. 65
The Last Stage to Auschwitz-Birkenau ....................................... 69
The Abiding Memory of the Parents .......................................... 72