Contents

Using this brochure

1 Contents and structure of the brochure 13
2 Selective reading possible 13

A Introduction 14

1 From spot trading to forward trading 14

2 Some basic forms 14
   2.1 Currency forwards 14
   2.2 Equity options 15

3 Physical delivery and cash settlement; closing out of positions 16

4 Purpose of forward transactions 17
   4.1 Hedging against risks resulting from changes in prices 17
   4.2 Speculation 17

5 Types of forward transactions 17
   5.1 Fixed contracts and options 17
   5.2 Differentiation based on underlying 18

6 Exchange-traded and over-the-counter (OTC) forward transactions 18
   6.1 Exchange-traded forward transactions (futures and options) 18
   6.2 Over-the-counter (OTC) forward transactions 20
   6.3 Warrants (option certificates) 20

7 Margin 20

8 Risks of forward transactions 24
B Forward transactions in detail

1 Financial futures

1.1 Definition and basic principles
1.1.1 Purchase of a futures contract (future long position)
1.1.2 Sale of a futures contract (future short position)
1.1.3 Closing out of a futures position
1.1.4 Profits and losses from futures transactions
1.1.5 Settlement of futures contracts

1.2 Types
1.2.1 Futures on interest rates
1.2.2 Futures on equity indices

1.3 Possible applications

1.4 Price determination and quotation of futures
1.4.1 Price determination
1.4.2 Quotation of futures

2 Currency forwards

2.1 Definition and basic principles
2.1.1 Term of currency forwards
2.1.2 Final settlement
2.1.3 Closing of positions
2.1.4 Rate quotation

2.2 Price determination

2.3 Types

2.4 Possible applications

3 Options

3.1 Definition and basic principles

3.2 Characteristics of option transactions
3.2.1 Option type
3.2.2 Underlying asset
3.2.3 Expiry date
3.2.4 Strike price
3.2.5 Exercise date
3.2.6 Final settlement

3.3 Price determination
3.3.1 Major factors influencing the price of an option

3.4 Option positions and possible applications
3.4.1 Positions
3.4.2 Opening and closing of option positions
3.4.3 Basic applications
3.4.4 Summary

3.5 Specialised applications
4 Warrants (option certificates)

4.1 Definition and basic principles
4.1.1 Underlying assets
4.1.2 Strike price
4.1.3 Cash settlement possible instead of delivery
4.1.4 Term
4.1.5 Possibility of exercising American-style and European-style warrants
4.1.6 Option ratio

4.2 How they work
4.2.1 Leverage effect
4.2.2 Different expectations

4.3 Valuation criteria and determinants of price
4.3.1 Intrinsic value
4.3.2 Time value
4.3.3 Premium
4.3.4 Break-even point
4.3.5 Leverage and price sensitivity
4.3.6 An example

4.4 Types and possible applications
4.4.1 Traditional warrants
4.4.2 Naked warrants

5 Leveraged certificates

5.1 Definition and basic principles
5.1.1 Leveraged certificates without stop loss barriers
5.1.2 Leveraged certificates with stop loss barriers
5.1.3 Term
5.1.4 Price quotations
5.1.5 Factors which determine the issuing price
5.1.6 Factors which determine price during the term
5.1.7 Compensation payments for the sale of certificates
5.1.8 Trading
5.1.9 Repayment

5.2 Types: Classification based on underlying 5.2.1 Certificates on shares
5.2.2 Certificates on bonds or interest rates
5.2.3 Certificates on other underlying assets

5.3 Types: Classification based on composition
5.3.1 Index certificates
5.3.2 Basket certificates
5.3.3 Certificates on a single underlying asset
C General risks of forward transactions

1 Market price risk

2 Risk associated with leverage

3 Risk of margin calls
   3.1 An Example

4 Liquidity risk
   4.1 Illiquidity despite market making

5 Correlation risk

6 Risks associated with trading on foreign markets

7 Risk of financing forward transactions with loans

8 Effect of ancillary costs on expected profit for exchange-traded forward transactions

9 Tax risks

10 Other risks
   10.1 Information risk
   10.2 Order transmission risk
   10.3 Risk of early closing of positions
   10.4 Risk of holding securities in custody in foreign countries
1 Risks specific to financial futures
   1.1 Market price risk
      1.1.1 Basis risk
      1.1.2 Risk of leverage
   1.2 Correlation risk
   1.3 Delivery risk

2 Risks specific to currency forwards
   2.1 Market price risk
   2.2 Transferability risk

3 Risks specific to options
   3.1 Market price risk
      3.1.1 Risk associated with changes in price of underlying (delta)
      3.1.2 Risk associated with convexity (gamma)
      3.1.3 Risk associated with changes in volatility (vega)
      3.1.4 Risk associated with remaining term (theta)
      3.1.5 Risk associated with changes in interest rates (rho)
      3.1.6 Ex-dividend markdown
   3.2 Risk of a drop in value or total loss
      3.2.1 Drop in value
      3.2.2 Total loss
   3.3 Risk associated with writing options
   3.4 Counterparty risk
   3.5 Risk associated with leverage

4 Risks specific to warrants (option certificates)
   4.1 General price risk
   4.2 Risk of loss due to changes in the price of the underlying asset
   4.3 Risk of loss due to changes in the volatility of the underlying asset
   4.4 Risk of loss due to a drop in the time value
   4.5 Risk associated with leverage
   4.6 Risk of a drop in value or total loss
      4.6.1 Drop in value
      4.6.2 Total loss
   4.7 Risk of inability to limit losses
   4.8 Risk resulting from complexity of exotic warrant products
   4.9 Issuer risk
   4.10 Influence of ancillary costs on potential profit
   4.11 Currency risk
   4.12 Effects on warrants of hedging transactions by issuer
5 Risks specific to leveraged certificates

5.1 Risk associated with leverage
5.2 Risk of total loss caused by knock-out
5.3 Influence of ancillary costs on potential profit
5.4 Redemption only at maturity; saleability of certificates
5.5 Issuer risk
5.6 General price risk
5.7 Correlation risk
5.8 Liquidity risk
5.9 Risk of a drop in value
5.10 Currency risk
5.11 Effects on certificates of hedging transactions by issuer

E What you should take into account when placing an order

1 Transactions on Eurex Deutschland

1.1 Trading
1.2 Instructions when placing an order
1.2.1 Unlimited order
1.2.2 Limited order
1.2.3 Combined order
1.2.4 Stop order
1.2.5 Price determination
1.2.6 Contract notes and settlement for Eurex transactions

2 Transactions in warrants and leveraged certificates

2.1 Fixed-price (dealer) transactions
2.2 Commission-based (broker) transactions
2.2.1 Exchanges and off-exchange markets
2.2.2 Exchange trading
2.3 Instructions when placing an order
2.3.1 Price limits
2.3.2 Stop loss orders and stop buy orders
2.3.3 Period of validity of your orders
2.4 Settlement of commission-based transactions
2.5 Payments to the bank by third parties
2.6 Contract notes (trade confirmations)

3 Risks associated with the execution of your securities order

3.1 Order transmission risk
3.2 Lack of market liquidity
3.3 Price risk
3.4 Suspension of quotation and similar measures
4  Risks associated with same-day transactions ("day trading") 4.1 Immediate loss, competition with professionals, and requisite knowledge 4.2 Greater loss potential from trading on margin
   4.3 Costs
   4.4 Unlimited losses associated with forward trades
   4.5 Risks of proximity to other investors influencing your behaviour

F  Glossary

G  Index of key words