Contents

List of Figures .............................................. XIX
List of Tables .............................................. XXI
List of Abbreviations ....................................... XXIII

1 Introduction ............................................. 1

2 A Fair Pool Sharing Mechanism for Illiquid Catastrophe Risk Markets 5
   2.1 Introduction ........................................... 5
   2.2 Multi-party risk pools .................................... 7
   2.3 Fairness axioms for the pool sharing mechanism ........ 8
   2.4 Game theoretic justification ............................ 15
   2.5 The Pool Sharing Mechanism ............................. 17
   2.6 Multi-party risk pools in illiquid catastrophe risk markets 19
   2.7 Considerations concerning the application to terrorism risk 23
   2.8 Case study: an application of the pool sharing mechanism 26
   2.9 Conclusion ............................................... 30

3 Insurance Regulation and Life Catastrophe Risk 33
   3.1 Introduction ............................................. 33
   3.2 Current proposal for life catastrophe risk regulation under Solvency II ........................................... 38
   3.3 Derivation of a partial internal model for life catastrophe risk ......................................................... 42
   3.4 Recognition of risk management instruments ............ 50
   3.5 Market development ....................................... 55
   3.6 Conclusion ............................................... 58

XVII