Contents

Series editor's introduction (Amei Koll-Stobbe) ................................................................. 7

Introduction ........................................................................................................................................ 9

Dimensions and dynamics of sociolinguistic landscapes in Europe (Mikko Laitinen and Anastassia Zabrodskaia) .................................................................................................................... 11

Part I: Mobility, globalization and signs in space ............................................................................ 27

Urban linguistic landscaping: Scanning metropolitan spaces (Hagen Peukert) ................................. 29

Ideofiers in the commercial city: A discursive linguistic landscape analysis of hairdressers' shop names (Amei Koll-Stobbe) ..................................................................................................... 53

Two faces of Oslo: A comparative study of the sense of place (Karine Stjernholm) ............................ 77

English on the move: What's beyond modernity and internationalism? (Mikko Laitinen) .................... 105

Part II: Semiotic landscapes and signs in virtual space ................................................................. 125

Social media landscapes: Tracing the uses and functions of a hybrid sign (Mia Halonen) ................. 127

Constructing a cross-border space through semiotic landscapes: A case study of a German-Czech organization (Christoph Marx and Marek Nekula) ............................................................................. 149
Part III: Exploring linguistic landscapes in the former Eastern bloc

Linguistic landscapes of a minoritized regional majority:
Language ideologies among Hungarians in South-West Slovakia
(Petteri Laihonen)

'Ruralscapes' in post-Soviet Transnistria: Ideology and language use on the fringes of a contested space (Sebastian Muth)

Linguistic landscapes as multimodal and multilingual phenomena
(Olga Bever)

The presence of the Italian language in the linguistic landscapes of Moscow
(Monica Perotto)

Contributing Authors

Author Index

Subject Index