Contents

Abbreviations vii
Preface and Acknowledgements ix
Introduction: A Special Postcolonial and Transnational Relationship 1

PART I THE BURDEN OF HISTORY 11

1. Namibia’s Century of Colonialism – a Fragmented Past in an Unequal Society 13
2. Germany: From Late Coloniser to First Postcolonial Nation to Postcolonial Amnesia 49
4. Namibia’s Germany: Transnational Implications of Settler Colonialism 99
5. The Namibian Connection in Denialism 117
6. The Windhoek Rider: Contested Terrain, Multiple Meanings 147

PART II COMMUNITY, COMMEMORATION AND PERFORMANCE 169

7. Communal Reconstruction and Subaltern Traditions 171
8. Constructing and Claiming Identities and Spaces: Commemorations in Southern and Central Namibia 179
9. Beyond a Fragmented Image of History 221

PART III APOLOGY, RESTITUTION & REPARATION: THE CHALLENGE OF POSTCOLONIAL RECONCILIATION 231

10. A Mute Conversation: The Rise of the Reparations Issue 233
11. Half an Apology – Political Re-Alignments 247
12. The Saga of the Skulls: Restitution Without Recognition 273

Conclusion: Perspectives in the Long Aftermath of Genocide 317

Glossary 331
Bibliography 335
About the author 378
About the cover photograph 378