

Contents

|                                                                                                                                                                                              |     |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| SINA RAUSCHENBACH and CHRISTIAN WINDLERIntroduction . . . . .                                                                                                                            | 9   |
| CHRISTIAN WINDLERArbitrismo , Reform and the Government of the Minister-Favouritesin the Spanish Monarchy . . . . .                                                           | 19  |
| FERNANDO BOUZAAccess to Printing in the Political Communicationof the Spanish Baroque and its Effects on the Productionof Political Arbitrios and Avisos . . . . . | 43  |
| ARNDT BRENDECKEConquista and Arbitrismo .Reflections on their Relationship . . . . .                                                                                   | 63  |
| ANNE DUBETDonneurs d'avis and Arbitristas in France and Spain(Seventeenth and Eighteenth Centuries).Proposals for an Interpretation . . . . .                      | 77  |
| BARTOLOMÉ YUN CASALILLAArbitristas , Projectors, Eccentrics and Political Thinkers.Contextualizing and “Translating” a European Phenomenon . . . . .                          | 101 |
| JUSTUS NIPPERDEYAmplificatio and Restauración .Political Advice in Spain and the Holy Roman Empirein the Seventeenth Century . . . . .                             | 123 |
| BAKI TEZCANFrom Veysî (d. 1628) to Üveysî (fl. ca. 1630).Ottoman Advice Literature and Its Discontents . . . . .                                                                     | 141 |

|                                                                                                                             |     |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| NICCOLÒ GUASTI                                                                                                              |     |
| The Debate on the Expulsion of the Gypsies in theCastilian Arbitrismo of the Early Seventeenth Century . . . . . | 157 |
| SINA RAUSCHENBACH                                                                                                           |     |
| The Castilian Arbitristas , the Conversos and the Jews . . . . .                                              | 177 |
| Bibliography . . . . .                                                                                                      | 199 |
| List of contributors . . . . .                                                                                              | 221 |
| Index of names . . . . .                                                                                                    | 223 |
| Index of places . . . . .                                                                                                   | 231 |