

Table of Content

1) Introduction	11
a) How Does Banksy Depict Consumerism?	11
b) How is the Term Consumer Culture Used in this Study?	15
c) Sources	17
2) Terms and Definitions	19
a) Consumerism and Consumption	19
i) The Term Consumption	19
ii) The Concept of Consumerism	20
b) Cultural Critique, Critique of Authority and Environmental Criticism	23
c) Consumer Society	23
i) Narrowing Down »Consumer Society«	24
ii) Emergence of Consumer Societies	25
d) Consumption and Religion	28
e) Consumption in Art History	31
i) Marcel Duchamp	32
ii) Andy Warhol	35
iii) Jeff Koons	39
f) Graffiti, Street Art, and Urban Art	43
i) Graffiti	43
ii) The Term Street Art	44
iii) Definition of Street Art	45
(1) Street (and) Art	46
(2) »Illegal« versus »Self-authorized«	47
(3) Word versus Image	49
(4) The Viewer of Street Art	51
(5) Street Art Is Site-specific	52
(6) The Performative Aspect of Street Art	53
(7) Street Art Is Ephemeral and Participatory	54
(8) Street Art and Advertising	55
(9) Quality Characteristics of Street Art	56
iv) Urban Art	59

3) London at the Turn of the Millennium	61
a) The London Art Scene since 1980	62
b) Damien Hirst and Young British Artists	66
c) What makes a British artist in the 1990s a Young British Artist?	73
4) Banksy	79
a) Street Art – The Rise of Banksy	79
i) Why Did Street Art Increase around 2000?	83
ii) The Spectacularization of Art	87
iii) Barcode – »Barcode Leopard« (2000)	89
iv) Money	93
(1) »Cash Point« (ca. 2001-2005)	93
(2) »Di-Faced Tenners« (2005)	97
v) Leftist Consumption	100
(1) »IKEA Punk« (2009)	100
(1.1) »Street« Art: Site-specificity and the Role of Photography	105
(1.2) Commercialization of Street Art	108
(2) »Destroy Capitalism« (2006)	110
b) Painting – »Crude Oils« (since 2000)	114
i) The Series and the Exhibition	114
(1) The Framing	118
(2) Rats	120
ii) Selected Artwork	121
(1) Toxic Waste Barrel – »Crude Oil« (2005)	121
(2) Shopping Cart – »Show me the Monet« (2005)	125
(3) The Tesco Supermarket Motif and the Shopping Bag	129
(3.1) Street Art in a Museum – »Discount Soup Can« (2005)	129
(3.2) Supermarket Bag – »Very Little Helps« (2008)	132
(3.3) Essentials and Non-Essentials – Shopping Bag and Religion	137
c) Installation – »The Village Pet Store and Charcoal Grill« (2008-09)	140
i) Fast-food Consumption – »Nuggets« and »Sausages«	144
ii) Animals as a Raw Material Supplier – »Leopard«	150
iii) Children, Consumption and Cosmetics – »Rabbit«	152
iv) Media Consumption – »Primates«	155
(1) The TV-Set	156
(2) The Artist as Masturbator	160

5) Banksy and Damien Hirst	165
a) »Keep it Spotless (Defaced Hirst)« (2007)	165
b) Hirst's Spot Paintings	168
c) »Keep it Spotless (Defaced Hirst)« (2007) Part 2	173
d) The Location Reference – Street and Art	183
6) Artistic strategies for dealing with Consumer Phenomena	189
a) A Consumer Paradise Illusion?	191
i) The Controlled »Shock«	191
ii) Over-Identification and Irony	192
b) Banksy's Anti-Consumption, Political-Activist Caricature	192
i) Images of Images	193
ii) (Dis)placement and Staging	195
c) Brands not Products	196
d) Souvenirs	199
e) Advertising	199
e) (Im)material Things	202
7) Appendix	205
a) Banksy's Pseudonym	205
b) Banksy's »Biography«	212
c) Banksy's Exhibitions	222
i) Banksy's Artistic Activities and Travels	228
ii) Banksy's Album Covers	230
d) Bibliography	232
i) Online Sources with an Author	232
ii) Online Sources without an Author	240
iii) Other Websites	245
iv) Printed Magazine or Newspaper Articles, Papers, Essays and Interviews	247
v) Books and Exhibition Catalogs	250
vi) Videos	255