

Table of Contents

Programme . . . . .	11
The Changing Fortunes of »Reformation« in Anglican Self-Understanding. . . . .	17
Richard Chartres
The 500th Reformation Anniversary in Germany Theological and Ecumenical Impulses for a Cultural Event . . . . .	32
Friederike Nüssel
Meissen's Contribution to the Renewal of the Anglo-German Conversation in the Twenty First Century . . . . .	43
Nicholas Baines
The Church between Contextuality and Catholicity Protestant Considerations on the Ecumenical Significance of the Reformational Principle . . . . .	55
Michael Weinrich
Traduttore, traditore – »Translator, traitor« Consequences of Vernacular Scripture and Liturgy for Reformation Christianity . . . . .	65
Carolyn Hammond
Religion and Politics Reformation Stimuli and their Importance for Today . . . . .	79
Gury Schneider-Ludoff

The Reformation Jubilee 2017 Challenges to Be Met. . . . .	93
Margot Käßmann
The End of Reformation The Eschatological Consequences of Luther's Reformation Insight. . .	108
Stephen J. Plant
Understanding the Bible Perspectives from English and German Theology and their Relevance for the Churches of the Reformation . . . . .	121
Jörg Lauster
Faith and Works Martin Luther and Richard Hooker on Two Kinds of Righteousness . . . . .	133
Torrance Kirby
Reformation Then and Now Social and International Dimensions from an Anglican Perspective . .	152
Elaine Storkey
On the Significance of Luther's Ethics in the Light of Current Challenges to Peace Ethics. . . . .	163
Sigurd Rink
Index of Authors . . . . .	172