

Contents

Acknowledgements — V

Konrad H. Jarausch, Christian F. Ostermann and Andreas Etges
Rethinking, Representing, and Remembering the Cold War:
Some Cultural Perspectives — 1

Siegfried Weichlein
Representation and Recoding: Interdisciplinary Perspectives on Cold War Cultures — 19

David Reynolds
Probing the Cold War Narrative since 1945: The Case of Western Europe — 67

Vladimir O. Pechatnov
Changing Cold War Interpretations in Post-Soviet Russia — 83

Christopher R. Moran
Company Confessions: The CIA, Whistleblowers and Cold War
Revisionism — 94

Falk Pingel
The Cold War in History Textbooks: A German-German, French and British Comparison — 113

Paul Bleton
Machiavelli's Angels Hiding in Plain Sight: Media Culture and French Spy Fiction of the Cold War — 134

Christoph Classen
Enemies, Spies, and the Bomb
Cold War Cinema in Comparison: Germany and the US, 1948–1970 — 152

Jennifer Dickey
Remembering the American War in Vietnam — 177

Muriel Blaive
“The Cold War? I Have it at Home with my Family”
Memories of the 1948–1989 Period Beyond the Iron Curtain — 194

VIII — Contents

Wayne D. Cocroft

Protect and Survive

Preserving and Presenting the Built Cold War Heritage — 215

Hope M. Harrison

Berlin's Gesamtkonzept for Remembering the Wall — 239

Sybille Frank

Competing for the Best Wall Memorial

The Rise of a Cold War Heritage Industry in Berlin — 266

Hanno Hochmuth

Contested Legacies

Cold War Memory Sites in Berlin — 283

Select Bibliography — 300

Name Index — 302

About the Authors — 307