

Table of Contents

Sonja Brentjes

Introduction:

On Narratives of Amateurs and Professionals 9

Part 1:

Inventing Narratives of Intellectual Identities and their Modern Relevance

Science as a Weapon of Cultural Competition.

Interview with Lorraine Daston, director,

Max-Planck-Institut für Wissenschaftsgeschichte, Berlin 19

Dhrwv Raina

After Exceptionalism and Heritage:

Thinking through the Multiple Histories of Knowledge 25

Helge Wendt

Becoming Global:

Difficulties for European Historiography

in Adopting Categories of Global History..... 39

Antoni Malet

Science, History, and Identity in Francoist Spain,

the Early Years..... 53

Manuela Marín

Reinventing the History of al-Andalus:

Scholarship, the Media, and a Touch of Islamophobia.....75

Khodadad Rezakhani

The Present in the Mind's Past:

Imagining the Ancients in the Iranian Popularization

of Pre-Islamic History97

Part 2:

What is Wrong with the Narrative in 1001 Inventions' Companion Book?

Hadi Joráti

Misuse and Abuse of Language, and the Perils of Amateur Historiography (of Science)..... 109

Lutz Richter-Bernburg Potemkin in Baghdad: The Abbasid “House of Wisdom” as Constructed by 1001 Inventions	121
Sonja Brentjes Science, Religion, and Education.....	133
Jeffrey A. Oaks Excavating the Errors in the “Mathematics” Chapter of 1001 Inventions	151
Petra G. Schmidl “Mirror of the Stars:” The Astrolabe and What It Tells About Pre-Modern Astronomy in Islamic Societies	173
Taner Edis and Amy Sue Bix Flights of Fancy: The 1001 Inventions Exhibition and Popular Misrepresentations of Medieval Muslim Science and Technology	189
Rainer Brömer Only What Goes Around Comes Around: A Case Study on Revisionist Priority Disputes– Circulation of the Blood	201
Part 3: Delights and Dangers of Popularizing Historical and Scientific Knowledge
On the Difference Between Doing Academic Research and Directing a Museum of Islamic Art and Culture. Interview with Stefan Weber , director of the Museum für Islamische Kunst, Berlin, March 2014 and Spring 2016	215
Aaron Adair Mass Education on Science and its History: Using Misconceptions in Physics to Teach History and Science	221
Holger Schuckelt A Museum Curator at Work.....	233
Peter Adamson Without any Gaps: Podcasting the History of Philosophy	241

Mike Diboll
1001 Inventions and Failed Education Reform in Bahrain: A Case Study	249
Vidar Enebakk
1001 Pieces of Islamist Propaganda?	265
Postscript	279