Contents

Introduction to the English Edition  XIII
Foreword  XXV
   Prof. Norbert Leser
Acknowledgements  XXXIII
Illustrations  XXXV

1 Otto Bauer and His Time  1

2 The Materialist View of History  45
   1 Scientistic Marxism  45
   2 Historiosophical Reflections  63
   3 Marxism and Ethics  73

3 A Contribution to the Theory of Imperialism  86
   1 Imperialism as a Necessary Stage of Capitalism  89
   2 The Socio-Political Context of Bauer's Observations on Imperialism  97
   3 The Question of Crises in the Capitalist Economy  102
      3.1 Conjunctural Crisis and the Theory of Overcoming Crises  103
      3.2 Structural Crisis and Ways of Overcoming It  110
      3.3 Rationalisation Crisis  113
   4 Socialism and the Theory of 'Organised Capitalism'  114

4 The National Question  118
   1 The Nation and National Culture  118
      1.1 The Essence of the National Character  120
      1.2 The Peculiar Quality of National Consciousness  123
      1.3 Thinking in the Categories of National Values  126
      1.4 Cultural and Natural Community  128
      1.5 The Determinants of Modern Nation-Forming  134
      1.6 The Nation as a Real Community of Culture in a Future State  138
   2 The Nationalities Question in the Austro-Hungarian Monarchy  141
      2.1 Social Democracy and the National Question  145
      2.2 Bauer's Position on the So-Called Nationalities Question  150
         2.2.1 Position on National Conflicts  150
         2.2.2 The Programme of National-Cultural Autonomy  153
         2.2.3 Remarks on National Assimilation  159
      2.3 The Programme of the Left and the Demise of the Monarchy  162
5 The 'Third Way' to Socialism 168
   1 The Vision of Peaceful Revolution and Its Realisation 168
      1.1 Parliamentarism and the Revolution 169
      1.2 Practice in the Service of Theory 181
   2 The Theory of Social Upheaval During the Post-Revolutionary Period 194
      2.1 The Programme of Linz 194
      2.2 'Integral Socialism' 201
   3 The Question of Revolutionary Allies for the Working Class 205
      3.1 The Socialisation Programme 207
      3.2 The Agrarian Programme 218
   4 The Gradual Development of Attitudes toward Revolution and Bolshevik Practice 226
      4.1 The Doctrinaire Perspective: Chances of Socialist Revolution in Russia 228
      4.2 A Doctrinaire-Pragmatic Perspective: The New Economic Policy 235
      4.3 A Pragmatic Perspective: Stalinism 238

6 State, Democracy, Socialism 246
   1 The State as 'Balance' of Class Power 248
   2 Parliamentary and Social Democracy 253
   3 Democratic Socialism 263
   4 Coalition Work 268

7 The Question of War in Bauer's Thought in Light of SDAP and LSI Policies 277
   1 The SDAP Position until the Outbreak of World War I 277
   2 Bauer's Opposition to the SDAP Position on World War I 283
   3 Bauer on a Future Armed World Conflict: Fears, Hopes, and Plans 288

8 The Spectre of Fascism 295
   1 Harbingers of Fascism 295
   2 Bauer's Theory of Fascism 302
      2.1 Fascism Theory Based on the Notion of Bonapartism 306
      2.2 Austrofascism as a Special Sub-Variety of Fascism 316
      2.3 The Theory of Fascism as Imperialism 323
   3 The Anti-Fascist Uprising of Austrian Workers 327
   4 Austrian Social Democracy and the Triumph of Fascism 333
4.1 Austrian Social Democracy's Relationship to Strategic and Tactical Concepts of the Workers' Movement During the Period of Fascist Reaction 333

4.2 Oppositional Activity of the Social-Democratic Movement at Home and in Exile after the SDAP Ban 338

Closing Remarks 351

References 357

Index 384