

Contents

Lily Gardner Feldman
Introduction to the Present Volume	7
Martin Leiner
Setting the Stage: An Introductory Clarification of Concepts of East Central Europe	13
Samuel Goda
The OSCE and Reconciliation: between Theory and Practice	33
Raisa Barash
Mythologization of the Soviet Past and Prospects for Historical Reconciliation in Russia	49
Olga Konkka
Russian Internal Narratives about the “Western Enemy” as a Barrier for Reconciliation: The Example of School History Textbooks	65
Matthew Rojansky
Russian-Ukrainian Relations: Conflict and Reconciliation over Shared History	83
Karina V. Korostelina
Reconciliation in Ukraine: within and across the boundary	105
Katja Wezel
Memory Conflicts as Barrier to Reconciliation: Post-Soviet Disputes between the Baltic States and Russia	131
Annamária Kiss
The Means and Ends of Russo-Georgian “Normalization”: What is beyond the “Red Lines”?	149

Jolanta Jonaszko

Disarming Memory: The Katyn Massacre and Reconciliation in Polish-Russian Relations 1990–2015 167

Klaus Bachmann

Polish-Ukrainian Reconciliation after World War II 189

Mimoza Telaku and Shifra Sagy

Perceptions of Collective Narratives and Acculturation Attitudes: The case of Serbs and Albanians in Kosovo 211

About the Editors 225

About the Authors 227