

Contents

Preface

Acknowledgements

Abbreviations

Executive summary	1
1 Introduction	5
2 Digitalisation prospects for the clothing industry: automation, robotics and new business models	7
2.1 Digitalisation of manufacturing and the future of latecomer industrialisation	7
2.2 Technological and economic trends shaping the future of the clothing industry	11
3 Determinants of competitiveness: country-level comparisons of direct and indirect costs	26
4 Chinese textiles and clothing manufacturing: really moving to Africa?	35
4.1 Coping with rising wages: recent trends in China's textiles and clothing industry	35
4.2 Three case studies: Shenzhou International Group, Esquel Group and Dalang sweater cluster	40
5 Challenges and opportunities for Sub-Saharan Africa: spotlight on Ethiopia and Madagascar	47
5.1 The role of Preferential Trade Agreements for SSA clothing exports	48
5.2 Development of SSA clothing exports	50
5.3 The case of Ethiopia	53
5.3.1 Development of clothing exports and foreign investments	53
5.3.2 Determinants of competitiveness	57
5.3.3 The role of industrial policy	59
5.4 The case of Madagascar	62
5.4.1 Development of clothing exports and foreign investments	62
5.4.2 Determinants of competitiveness	65
5.4.3 The role of industrial policy	67
5.5 Prospects for Chinese FDI in a comparative perspective	68
5.5.1 Ethiopia	68
5.5.2 Madagascar	70
6 Conclusions and outlook	71
References	75
Annex	83