Table of Contents

Heikki Haara & Koen Stapelbroek
Intellectual History and Helsinki: Editorial Introduction —— 1

Richard Whatmore
1 The State of Intellectual History: Local and Global —— 5

Part I Inclusion and Exclusion in the History of Ideas

László Kontler
2 Inventing “Humanity”: Early-Modern Perspectives —— 25

Eva Piirimäe
3 Human Rights and their Realisation in the World: Herder’s Debate with Kant —— 47

Justin Begley
4 Pierre Gassendi and the Humanist Case for a Vegetarian Diet —— 75

Ben Dew
5 Enlightenment Historical Writing and the Expulsion of England’s Jews —— 89

Tatiana Artemyeva
6 The Encyclopedism of the Russian Enlightenment in the History of Ideas —— 105

 Çağlar Çömez
7 David Hume, Immanuel Kant, and the Possibility of an Inclusive Moral Dialogue —— 125

Fabio Mengali
8 Neither Citizens nor Slaves: The Aporetic Condition of Modern Citizenship —— 143
Part II Natural Law, Political Economy and History: Essays in Honour of Kari Saastamoinen

Markku Peltonen
Preface: Kari Saastamoinen – An Appreciation — 173

Heikki Haara & Tim Stuart-Buttle
9 The Problem of Sociability after Hobbes: Pufendorf and Locke on the Politics of Recognition — 177

Mikko Tolonen
10 Pierre Nicole and amour-propre — 195

Aino Lahdenranta
11 Hutcheson’s Ambivalence about the Passions: Must Virtue and Fittingness Come Apart? — 219

Adriana Luna-Fabritius
12 Pufendorf’s Sociability in (Italian) Translation — 235

Ere Nokkala
13 Rethinking the Pursuit of Happiness – Johann Heinrich Gottlob von Justi’s Critique of Paternal Rule — 259

Laura Tarkka-Robinson
14 An Empire of Renewed Ambitions: Political Economy and National Character in the Travels (1782) of William Macintosh — 275

Jussi Kurunmäki & Jani Marjanen

Contributors — 319

Bibliography — 323

Index — 355