

Table of Contents

SAPERE	V
Preface to this Volume	VII

A. Introduction

Introduction (Reinhard G. Kratz)	3
1. The Dead Sea Scrolls and the Community of Qumran	3
1.1. The Findings	3
1.2. The Problem of Historical Contextualization	7
1.3. The Witness of the Texts	8
1.4. The Historical Context	15
2. Miqṣat Ma'āse Ha-Torah , "Some of the Works of the Torah" (4QMMT)	18
2.1. The Content	18
2.2. The Manuscripts	23
2.3. Editions and Research	26
2.4. This Volume	30

B. Text, Translation and Notes

Miqṣat Ma'āse Ha-Torah , Some of the Works of the Torah (Text, Translation and Notes by Reinhard G. Kratz)	32
---	----

C. Essays

Material Construction and Palaeographic Dating of 4QMMT:

The Evidence of the Manuscripts (Eibert Tigchelaar)	57
1. Material construction in the Qimron / Strugnell edition	58
2. Alternative material constructions relating to 4Q398 11–13	59
3. Previous palaeographic analyses of the MMT manuscripts	61
4. Palaeographical comments relating to individual manuscripts	62
5. Preliminary palaeographical conclusions	64

The Language of 4QMMT (Noam Mizrahi)

1. Background	67
2. MMT	69
3. Lexicon (including semantics and phraseology)	70
4. Grammar	73
4.1. Morphology	73
4.2. Phonology	76
5. Syntax	78
6. Discursive and Text-Linguistic Aspects	81
7. Conclusion	83

Law and Narrative: 4QMMT and the Hebrew Bible (Reinhard G. Kratz)	85
1. The literary unity of 4QMMT	85
2. Biblical quotations and allusions in 4QMMT B	86
3. Biblical quotations and allusions in 4QMMT C	90
4. The Relationship between 4QMMT B and C	93
5. Law and Narrative in 4QMMT and in the Jewish Tradition	99
The Calendar and 4QMMT (Jonathan Ben-Dov)	105
1. Introduction	105
2. The kind of calendar contained in 4Q327 and 4Q394	107
3. Are 4Q327 and 4Q394 the same scroll?	110
4. Is the Calendar of 4Q394 part of MMT?	112
5. Conclusion	116
4QMMT in the Context of the Dead Sea Scrolls and Beyond (Charlotte Hempel)	117
1. Introduction	117
2. The Dominant Scholarly Discourse on 4QMMT	118
3. More Nuanced Reflections in Recent Research	119
4. The They-Group in 4QMMT	121
4.1. protectA New Proposal for Reading the Heading to the Halakhic Section of 4QMMT 4Q394 3–7 i 4–5a (i 5–6a [B1–2])	121
4.2. Cultic Purity and Propriety	122
4.3. Priestly Responsibilities and Privileges	126
4.4. Forbidden Sexual Relations	128
4.5. Other Exclusions	129
4.6. The Special Status of Jerusalem	131
4.7. The They-Group Beyond 4QMMT	132
4.8. Conclusion	135
From 4QMMT to the Rabbinic Halakhah (Vered Noam)	137
1. Qumran religious law and rabbinic halakhah	137
2. Sectarian law and rabbinic halakha from the perspective of 4QMMT	139
3. Examples of interrelations between sectarian and rabbinic halakhah	140
3.1. Reinterpretation of a sectarian law, assisted by rabbinic parallels	140
3.2. 4QMMT regulations expose the background of rabbinic exegetical moves	149
3.3. A subdued, shared infrastructure that preceded a dispute	152
4. Conclusion	158
4QMMT and History (John J. Collins)	161
1. Scope and composition	162
2. Genre	163
3. The dramatis personae	165
3.1. “We”	165
3.2. “You”	168
3.3. “They”	171
4. The Pharisees and the covenanters	173
5. The question of dating	174
6. Conclusion	178

4QMMT and / as Hellenistic Literature (Lutz Doering)	179
1. Introduction	179
2. Discourses on Calendar and Law in the Hellenistic Period	182
3. Between Epistle and Treatise: The Genre of 4QMMT and Hellenistic Literature	183
3.1. Official and Other Corporate Letters	186
3.2. Epistolary Treatises, Letter-Essays	189
3.3. Structural Features of Hellenistic Letter Closings	193
3.4. Epistolary Phrases	195
4. Conclusion	198
Contextualizing Paul's "Works of the Law": 4QMMT in New Testament Scholarship (Jörg Frey)	199
1. The Scholarly Framework: The Qumran Discoveries and the New Testament	199
2. The "Works of the Law" and the Debate about Pauline Theology	202
2.1. The Early Reactions among Qumran and New Testament Scholars	202
2.2. Aspects of the Pauline Debate: Justification, 'Works of the Law' and the 'New Perspective'	204
2.3. The Contribution of MMT to the Debate on the "Works of the Law"	207
2.4. Summing Up the Findings for the Pauline Debate	211
3. Other Parallels	214
4. Conclusion	215

D. Appendices

I. Bibliography	219
1. Abbreviations	219
2. Editions, Translations, Concordances, and Photos	219
3. Articles and Monographs	222
II. Indices (Andrea Villani)	233
1. Source Index (selection)	233
2. General Index	241
III. About the Authors of this Volume	247