

Inhalt

Foreword	9
1 Introduction	13
1.1 The scope of research	16
1.2 The state of the art	21
1.3 Methodology	30
1.4 The theoretical framework	33
2 Nigeria's religious landscape	45
2.1 Christianity in Nigeria	45
2.2 The history of Islam in Nigeria	47
2.2.1 The Sufi brotherhoods	49
2.2.2 Indirect rule	53
2.2.3 English law or Islamic law	57
2.2.4 Islam in Nigeria during the postcolonial era	60
2.2.5 The conflict between the Sufi brotherhoods	64
2.2.6 Sheikh Abubakar Gumi and his struggle against Sufism	67
3 Reform Islam versus Sufism	75
3.1 What is reform in “Nigerian” Islam?	77
3.2 The Shī‘ī movement in Nigeria	83
3.3 The Jamā‘at Tājdiđ al-Islām (JTI) in Nigeria	84
3.4 From Maitatsine to Boko Haram	86
3.5 Salafiyya oriented groups	89

4	The Izala movement between success and failure	91
4.1	Sheikh Ismaila Idris and the Izala question	91
4.2	JIBWIS: The formation of the Izala movement in 1978	95
4.2.1	One constitution and two factions	99
4.2.2	The structure of the organization	106
4.2.3	The current leadership of the Izala movement	111
4.3	The Izala movement and innovation	117
4.3.1	Definition(s) of bid'a	117
4.3.2	The Izala discourse on bid'a	127
4.4	The Izala movement and Wahhābism	134
4.5	The Izala divided	141
4.5.1	The time of the division	142
4.5.2	Reasons for the division	146
4.5.3	The Izala “war of words” between Kaduna and Jos	156
4.5.4	Attempts at reconciliation	164
5	The shari'a debate of 1999	169
5.1	Who implemented shari'a ?	171
5.2	Proponents and opponents of the shari'a -project	178
5.2.1	Proponents of shari'a	179
5.2.2	Opponents of the re-implementation of Islamic law	181
5.2.3	The Federal Government, the federal states, the ‘ ulama ’ and grassroots’ positions on shari'a re-implementation	185
5.3	Izala’s contribution to the re-implementation of Islamic law	190
5.4	The Izala movement, Sufis and shari'a law: A chance for reconciliation? 195
6	Conclusion	199
7	Bibliography	209