

Contents

List of contributors — IX

Acknowledgements — XIX

Preface — XXI

Part 1: Origins and evolution

Timothy Cadman and Tapan Sarker

Chapter 1

Origins and evolution of sustainable development and finance — 3

Hanna Ahlström and Beate Sjøfjell

Chapter 2

Complexity and uncertainty in sustainable finance: An analysis of the EU taxonomy — 15

Andrew Buckwell and Edward A. Morgan

Chapter 3

Ecosystem services and natural capital: Application to sustainable finance — 41

Susan Park

Chapter 4

The World Bank (Group) and sustainable development — 71

Edward A. Morgan and Andrew Buckwell

Chapter 5

Landscape planning and economics for sustainable finance — 89

Chris Taylor

Chapter 6

Certification and sustainable development — 119

Part 2: Public finance

Tapan Sarker and Timothy Cadman

Chapter 7

Public finance for sustainable development — 141

Kazi Arif Uz Zaman and Tapan Sarker

Chapter 8

Public finance and fiscal instruments for sustainable development — 153

Sima Rani Dey and Bishwajit Basak

Chapter 9

Financing sustainable development goals (SDGs) and the role of digital finance — 177

Fitri Nurfatriani, Mimi Salminah and Dewi Ratna Kurniasari

Chapter 10

Fiscal governance to support post-COVID low-carbon development in Indonesia — 193

Zoltán Kun

Chapter 11

The EU renewable energy policy and its impact on forests — 219

Part 3: Private finance

Tapan Sarker and Timothy Cadman

Chapter 12

Private finance for sustainable development — 251

Tomaso Ferrando, Gabriela Junqueira, Iage Miola, Flavio Marques Prol and Diogo R. Coutinho

Chapter 13

Green Bonds: Debt at the crossroad between finance, law and ecology — 265

Krzysztof Dembek and Jodi York

Chapter 14

Investing in sustainable business models at the base of the pyramid — 293

Arnab Bose, Seema Sharma and A. Amarender Reddy

Chapter 15

AI and blockchain for sustainable development in India — 329

Tony Bradley

Chapter 16

Valuing civil society environmental engagement — 349

Part 4: Climate finance

Timothy Cadman and Tapan Sarker

Chapter 17

Climate finance for sustainable development — 385

Hitomi Roppongi

Chapter 18

Financing emission reductions: Official development assistance (ODA)-driven climate finance and beyond — 397

Klaus Radunsky

Chapter 19

The adaptation fund (AF) — 425

Robert Hales

Chapter 20

An analysis of the global carbon market post COP26: How fossil fuel emission reductions and offset integrity must guide carbon market operation — 451

Andrea Ferraz Young

Chapter 21

Financing climate resilience: New opportunities and challenges — 475

Part 5: The blue economy

Timothy Cadman, Tapan Sarker, Sikha Karki
and Rebecca Marshallsay

Chapter 22

Sustainable ocean development and the blue economy — 497

Hugh Breakey

Chapter 23

Ethics in the blue economy — 511

Md. Wasiul Islam and Tapan Sarker

Chapter 24

Financing sustainable coastal and maritime tourism in the blue economy of the Asia-Pacific — 543

Tek Maraseni, Sikha Karki, Upama Kaju, Anita Shrestha
and Timothy Cadman

Chapter 25

Evaluating the governance of sustainable development: The quality and legitimacy of the blue economy — 567

Graham Wood

Chapter 26

How green is the blue economy? — 599

Sam Zak, Bailey Chappel, Connor Pilger, Bart Oor, Theresa Theuretzbacher,
Rebecca Truman and Brian von Herzen

Chapter 27

Finance approaches supporting social enterprise, non-profits and for-purpose organisations: A marine permaculture case study — 621

Conclusion

All authors

Chapter 28

Sustainable development and finance post-pandemic – future directions and challenges — 653

List of abbreviations and acronyms — 667

List of figures — 673

List of tables — 675

Index — 677