Contents

Contributors ................................................................. 9

Harald Spann
Foreword. A Book to Celebrate Werner Delanoy ..................... 19

Max von Blanckenburg and Carmen M. Amerstorfer
Strengthening the Involvement of Learners and Teachers in English
Language Education. An Introduction to the Volume ..................... 23

Part 1: Psychological Perspectives on EFL Teacher and Learner Emotions,
Well-Being, and Relationships

Carmen M. Amerstorfer and Peter D. MacIntyre
Psychology of Language Learning. Where Are We and where Are We Going? ................................................................. 31

Alaa Al-Tamimi and Tammy Gregersen
The Effects of Emotional Decoding on Eliciting Empathic Responses in Language Teachers. An Idiodynamic Case Study ......................... 55

Carmen M. Amerstorfer
How Cooperative Learning Can Contribute to Teacher Wellbeing,
Contentment, Motivation, and Positive Relationships ................. 77

Jean-Marc Dewaele, Sarah Mercer, and Christina Gkonou
Attitudinal, Motivational, and Socio-Biographical Predictors of EFL
Teachers’ Well-Being ................................................ 97

Part 2: Methodological Considerations on EFL Learner Activation and Engagement

Manuela Schlick
Kinaesthetic Learning Material for EFL Pronunciation Teaching and Their Potential for Teacher Education .................................... 119
Ha Hoang and Peter Gu
Unguided Peer Response. A Missing Piece in the Jigsaw Puzzle? ............. 141

Armin Berger, Helen Heaney, and Guenther Sigott
Dimensions of Language Assessment Literacy and Their Difficulty for Pre-Service Teachers of English in Austria ........................................... 159

Pamela Gunning, Teresa Hernández-González, and Joanna White
Implementing a Strategy Instruction Framework. Challenges of Classroom-Based Research at the Elementary Level ......................... 183

Laurenz Volkmann
Trigger Warnings, Safe Spaces, and Taboo Topics. Is there Still a Place for Hermeneutic Perturbation in Teaching (Foreign) Literature and Culture? . 205

Frauke Matz and Daniel Becker
Rethinking Cultural Learning in Light of “Response-Abilities.” Shifting Language Education “onto a Sustainable and Resilient Path” ............... 223

Christiane Lütge and Thorsten Merse
Digital Citizenship in English Language Education. Perspectives for Cultural and Global Learning ...................................................... 241

Grit Alter
Being Culturally Competent. Quo Vadis Cultural Learning 2.0? ............. 261

Part 4: Engaging EFL Learners Aesthetically and Politically through Literary Texts

Nursen Gömceli and Allan James
Command of Language and Interpersonal Positioning. A Literary Linguistic Analysis of Dialogue in Harold Pinter’s The Dumb Waiter with Insights for English Language Education .................................................. 281

Michael C. Prusse
“Memory Is the Most Unreliable of Faculties.” Literature in English Teacher Education .............................................................. 301
Max von Blanckenburg
Literary Learning and Political Education. Exploring the Nexus of Aesthetic and Rhetorical Language Use ........................................... 319

Maria Eisenmann
Developing Global Environmental Citizenship through Teaching Contemporary Dystopian Fiction ............................................. 339