SECTION 1 — THE CLINICAL PROBLEM
Clinical associations of recurrent miscarriage Professor R. W. Beard	3
The epidemiology of repeated abortion Professor E. Alberman	9
Discussion	19
A prospective study of spontaneous abortion Miss L. Regan	23
Discussion	39
Clinical and immunological significance of anti-phospholipid antibodies Dr. E.N. Harris	43
Discussion	61
SECTION 2 — EXPERIMENTAL MODELS OF EARLY PREGNANCY FAILURE
Anatomical and immunological aspects of fetal death in the Mus musculus/Mus caroli model of pregnancy failure Mr. M.A. Crépeau, Dr. S. Yamashiro, Dr. B.A. Croy	69
Discussion	85
Genetic aspects of the CBA × DBA/2 and B10 × B10.A models of murine pregnancy failure and its prevention by lymphocyte immunisation Dr. G. Chaouat, Professor D.A. Clark, Dr. T.G. Wegmann	89
Discussion	103
Effects of feto-maternal major histocompatibility differences on litter size in pigs Dr. C. Renard	105
Discussion	119
A non-genetic development defect in trophoblast formation in the horse: immunological aspects of a model of early abortion Dr. D.F. Antczak, Dr. W.R. Allen	123
Discussion	141

SECTION 3 — STUDIES OF THE NORMAL AND FAILING PLACENTA IN EARLY PREGNANCY

Placental pathology in spontaneous miscarriage Dr. D.I. Rushton	149
Discussion	159
Early human trophoblast Dr. Y.W. Loke	161
Discussion	169
The decidua in early pregnancy Dr. J.N. Bulmer, Miss A. Ritson	171
Discussion	181
Early pregnancy failure: biochemical and biophysical assessment Professor J.G. Grudzinkas, Dr. I. Stabile, Professor S. Campbell	183
Discussion	191
Haemostasis and fibrinolysis in human normal placentae: possible role in early pregnancy failure Dr. W. Page-Faulk	193
Discussion	199

SECTION 4 — FACTORS WHICH MAINTAIN PREGNANCY AT AND IMMEDIATELY AFTER IMPLANTATION

Chairman's introductory remarks	203
Antigen expression by cells of the conceptus before, during and after implantation Dr. W.D. Billington	205
Discussion	213
Host immunoregulatory mechanisms and the success of the conceptus fertilised in vivo and in vitro Professor D.A. Clark	215
Discussion	229
Interplay of oestrogens, progesterone and polypeptide growth factors at about the time of implantation Dr. R.B. Heap	233
Discussion	245
Prostaglandins and other non-steroidal mediators at and immediately after implantation Professor T.G. Kennedy	249
Discussion	259

SECTION 5 — GENETIC CAUSES OF EARLY PREGNANCY FAILURE
Is there a t complex in man?	269
Professor J. Klein, Dr. V. Vincek, Dr. M. Kasahara, Dr. F. Figueroa
Discussion	275
Immunogenetic factors influencing the survival of the fetal allograft	277
Professor T.J. Gill, Dr. H-N. Ho, Dr. A. Kanbour, Dr. T.A. Macpherson, Dr. D.N. Misra, Dr. H.W. Kunz
Discussion	287
The cytogenetics of spontaneous abortion in humans	293
Dr. M.R. Creasy
Discussion	305
The biology of trophoblastic disease: complete and partial hydatidiform moles	309
Professor A.E. Szulman
Discussion	317
 SECTION 6 — TECHNIQUES, TREATMENT CRITERIA AND OUTCOME OF IMMUNOTHERAPY IN RECURRENT ABORTION
Chairman's introductory remarks	323
Successes and failures of immunisation for recurrent spontaneous abortion	325
Professor J.F. Mowbray
Discussion	333
Pregnancy outcome in couples with recurrent abortions following immunological evaluation and therapy	337
Professor A.E. Beer
Discussion	351
Belgian experience with repeat immunisation in recurrent spontaneous abortions	355
Dr. S.A. Alexander, Dr. D. Latinne, Dr. M. Debruyere, Dr. E. Dupont, Dr. W. Gottlieb, Dr. K. Thomas
Discussion	365
Immunotherapy in recurrent spontaneous abortion: who, how, outcome	369
Dr. C.G. Taylor, J.G. Hill, Dr. N.A. Maclachlan, Dr. J.K. Wilson, Dr. P.R. Apps, Dr. M.F. Robards
Discussion	373

Human MHC antigens and paternal leucocyte injections in recurrent spontaneous abortions	375
Dr. M.F. Reznikoff-Etievant, Mrs. I. Durieux, Dr. J. Huchet, Professor C. Salmon, Professor A. Netter
Discussion	385
Trophoblast membrane infusion (TMI) in the treatment of recurrent spontaneous abortion	389
Professor P.M. Johnson, G.H. Ramsden, K.V. Chia
Discussion	397
 SECTION 7 — OTHER METHODS OF TREATMENT
Use of cervical cerclage in patients with recurrent first trimester abortion	411
Mr. D.K. Edmonds
Discussion	417
Early recurrent pregnancy failure: treatment with human chorionic gonadotrophin	421
Professor R.F. Harrison
Discussion	429
Recurrent abortion: the role of psychotherapy	433
Dr. B. Stray-Pedersen, Dr. S. Stray-Pedersen
Discussion	441
