

Contents

Preface	page vii
Contributors	x
Introduction James J. Sheehan	1
PART I
Introduction	5
1 German and American Historiography in the Nineteenth and Twentieth Centuries Ernst Schulin	8
2 German Historiography during the Weimar Republic and the Émigré Historians Wolfgang J. Mommsen	32
3 The Historical Seminar of the University of Berlin in the Twenties Felix Gilbert	67
PART II
Introduction	71
4 Refugee Historians in America: Preemigration Germany to 1939 Michael H. Kater	73
5 "Uphill Work": The German Refugee Historians and American Institutions of Higher Learning Karen J. Greenberg	94
6 Everyday Life and Emigration: The Role of Women Sibylle Quack	102
7 The Special Case of Austrian Refugee Historians Fritz Fellner	109

- 8 Schicksalsgeschichte: Refugee Historians in the United States Catherine Epstein 116
- 9 German Historians in the Office of Strategic Services
Barry M. Katz 136
- 10 The Refugee Scholar as Intellectual Educator: A Student's Recollections Carl E. Schorske 140

PART III

- Introduction 147
- 11 German Émigré Historians in America: The Fifties, Sixties, and Seventies Kenneth D. Barkin 149
- 12 The Americanization of Hajo Holborn
Otto P. Pflanze 170
- 13 Explaining History: Hans Rosenberg Hanna Schissler 180
- 14 Ernst Kantorowicz and Theodor E. Mommsen
Robert E. Lerner 188
- 15 Refugee Historians and the German Historical Profession between 1950 and 1970 Winfried Schulze 206
- Conclusion James J. Sheehan 226
- Name Index 229