DYNAMICS OF SELF-DETERMINATION IN PALESTINE

Protection of Peoples as a Human Right

BY

PAUL J.I.M. DE WAART

E.J. BRILL
LEIDEN • NEW YORK • KÖLN
1994
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>CONTENTS</th>
<th></th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Abbreviations</td>
<td>IX</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Preface</td>
<td>XIII</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chapter 1. The Element of Negotiation in International Order</td>
<td>1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1. Sovereign Equality in the Context of the UN Charter</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1.1. Horizontal Structure of International Society</td>
<td>2</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1.2. Membership</td>
<td>3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1.3. Structural Weakness</td>
<td>6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2. Peace and Security at the End of the Cold War</td>
<td>9</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2.1. Transitional Security Arrangements</td>
<td>9</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2.2. Collective Self-defence</td>
<td>14</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2.3. Peace Conference on the Middle East</td>
<td>16</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3. Peaceful Settlement of Disputes by UN Organs</td>
<td>18</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4. Supervising Non-Self-Governing Territories</td>
<td>23</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5. Thirst for Democracy: Towards International Good Governance</td>
<td>26</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5.1. Democratization within Europe</td>
<td>28</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5.1.1. Conference on Security and Co-operation in Europe</td>
<td>29</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5.1.2. European Union</td>
<td>30</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5.2. Democratization at the Global Level</td>
<td>32</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5.3. Principles of Good Governance</td>
<td>37</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6. Inadequate UN Governance: the Question of Palestine</td>
<td>39</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.1. UN Powers over Mandated Territories</td>
<td>39</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.2. Legality of the Palestine Mandate</td>
<td>42</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.3. International Status of the Occupied Territories</td>
<td>46</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6.4. A Challenge to the Rule of Law</td>
<td>53</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chapter 2. Self-determination: Protection Against Oppression</td>
<td>54</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1. International Protection of Human Rights</td>
<td>55</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1.1. Universal Recognition of the Right to Self-determination</td>
<td>56</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1.2. Identification of Peoples</td>
<td>58</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2. International Protection of Peoples</td>
<td>61</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2.1. Jewish People</td>
<td>61</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2.2. Palestinian People</td>
<td>63</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2.3. Kurdish People</td>
<td>64</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3. Code of Conduct on Self-determination</td>
<td>68</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
3.1. Democratic Society ................................................. 69
3.2. Principles of International Law ................................. 72
3.2.1. Prohibition of secession ..................................... 72
3.2.2. Prohibition of the use of force by states ................... 74
3.2.3. Prohibition of terrorism by liberation movements ......... 75
3.2.4. Peaceful settlement of disputes .............................. 78
3.3. Right to Development ............................................. 80
3.4. International Bill of Human Rights ............................. 82
3.4.1. Derogation ....................................................... 83
3.4.2. Limitation ....................................................... 85
3.4.3. People's participation ....................................... 86
3.5. International Humanitarian Law ................................. 88
3.5.1. Non-international armed conflicts ........................... 89
3.5.2. Occupied territories: the case of Palestine ............... 91
4. Failures under International Law ................................... 94

Chapter 3. Conflicting Territorial Claims of Peoples to Palestine 98
1. The Statehood of the Palestine Mandate .......................... 99
1.1. Territory .......................................................... 100
1.2. People ............................................................ 102
1.3. Government ....................................................... 104
1.4. Independence ..................................................... 106
2. Zionism as a Historical Claim to the 'Promised Land' .......... 108
2.1. 'Government Assents' ........................................... 109
2.2. 'Home in Palestine' .............................................. 111
3. Legality of the UN Plan of Partition for Palestine .............. 112
3.1. Unprejudiced International Law ................................ 113
3.2. Shifting Positions ............................................... 114
3.2.1. Zionism ......................................................... 114
3.2.2. 'Palestinianism' .............................................. 118
3.3. UN Concern ....................................................... 119
3.3.1. Special session ............................................... 120
3.3.2. Challenge of UN authority .................................. 121
3.3.3. Recommendatory character .................................. 122
4. Actuality of the UN Plan of Partition for Palestine ............. 126
4.1. Scope and Content ............................................... 127
4.1.1. Boundaries ..................................................... 128
4.1.2. Status of Jerusalem .......................................... 132
4.1.3. Economic Union ............................................... 135
4.2. Legitimacy of the Jewish State of Israel ....................... 138
4.3. Right to Exist of the Arab State of Palestine ................. 140
Chapter 4. Dynamics of Self-determination: the Creation of Palestine

1. Interrelating Sovereignty and Self-determination
   1.1. 'Civil Society'
   1.2. State
   1.3. Market
   1.4. International Standards for Human Development

2. Protecting Human Rights in Armed Conflicts
   2.1. Prolonged Military Occupation
   2.2. International Supervision
      2.2.1. Humanitarian assistance
      2.2.2. Use of force for humanitarian purposes
      2.2.3. International criminal court

3. The Creation of Palestine
   3.1. Interim Self-government: Opening or Final Stage?
      3.1.1. From Camp David to Madrid
      3.1.2. Declaration of Principles
   3.2. Monitoring Permanent Status Negotiations
      3.2.1. Palestinian interim authority
      3.2.2. Palestinian interim territory
      3.2.3. Jerusalem, capital of two states?

4. Learning from Palestine

Annexes. Basic Legal Documents on the Israeli-Palestinian Conflict

A. 1 UNGA res. on a Plan of Partition (1947, extract)
A. 2 UNGA res. on Conciliation, Status of Jerusalem and Right to Return (1948)
A. 3 UNGA res. restating that Jerusalem should be placed under a Permanent International Regime (1949)
A. 4 SC res. on Principles of a Just and Lasting Peace in the Middle East (1967 and 1973)
A. 5 The Palestine National Charter of 17 July 1968 (extracts)
A. 6 Comparative Extract of the Israeli and Palestinian Declarations of Independence (1948 and 1988 respectively)
A. 7 Statement by the Israeli Government on the Status of Jerusalem in May 1949
A. 8 A Framework for Peace in the Middle East Agreed at Camp David on 17 September 1978 (extract)
A. 10 Declaration of Principles on Interim Self-government Arrangements ................................................. 238
A. 11 Maps of Israeli and Palestinian Territory ................. 249
  1. Ottoman Administrative Units 1915 .................. 250
  2. Hussein-McMahon Correspondence 1915-1916 ...... 251
  3. Sykes Picot Agreement 1916 ..................... 252
  4. UN Partition Plan 1947 .............................. 253
  5. 1967 Occupied Territories .......................... 254
  6. Israeli Settlements in Palestine 1993 ............. 255

Bibliography .................................................. 256

Index ......................................................... 268