

Contents

Contributors	vii
Introduction Dawa and Development: the Future Dimension. Adnan Khalil Pasha	1
Part One The Meaning and Significance of Dawa	11
Dawa and Its Significance for the Future. M. Manazir Ahsan	13
Dawa A Practical Approach for the Future. Fadlullah Wilmot	22
Dawa and Dialogue Believers and Promotion of Mutual Trust. Syed Z. Abedin	42
Part Two The Future Role of Dawa	57
The Nature of Our Community The Tasks Ahead. Kamal Hasan	59
Places, People and Poverty The Challenge of Change. Ayyub Malik	72
Meeting Basic Needs The Example of Bangladesh. Mir Qasim Ali	77
Educating the Other Half No Half Measures. Aisha Lemu	105
A Nation in Exile Tackling the Problems of Refugees. Ayman Ahwal	119

Part Three Contemporary Communications of Islam	135
Muslim Print Media Present Status and Future Directions.
Aslam Abdullah	137
Urban Grapevines Establishing Community Newspapers.
Abdul Wahid Hamid	159
Serving the Public Muslim Presence on the Airwaves.
Merryl Wyn Davies	167
Epilogue Dawa: Planning Beyond Disasters.
Abdullah Omar Naseef	201
Index	211