

Contents

Acknowledgements	ix
Notes on Contributors	xi
Part I Introduction
1 The Fate of Nathan Helmut Walser Smith and Chris Clark	3
Part II Outlines
2 The Religious Divide: Piety in Nineteenth-Century Germany Lucian Hölscher	33
3 Religion, Denomination and Nationalism in Nineteenth-Century Germany Wolfgang Altgeld	49
4 The “Christian” State and the “Jewish Citizen” in Nineteenth-Century Prussia Chris Clark	67
Part III Religious Difference, National Culture and Identity
5 The Cult of Gustavus Adolphus: Protestant Identity and German Nationalism Kevin Cramer	97
6 The Process of Confessional Inculturation: Catholic Reading in the “Long Nineteenth Century” Jeffrey T. Zalar	121

Contents

7	Anti-Jesuitism in Imperial Germany: The Jesuit as Androgyne Róisín Healy	153
Part IV Religious Difference, Local Politics, and Pluralism
8	The Rise of the Religious Right and the Recasting of the “Jewish Question”: Baden in the 1840s Dagmar Herzog	185
9	Unity, Diversity, and Difference: Jews, Protestants, and Catholics in Breslau Schools During the Kulturkampf Till van Rahden	217
Part V From Conflict to Coexistence
10	The Catholics’ Missionary Crusade and the Protestant Revival in Nineteenth-Century Germany Michael B. Gross	245
11	Building Religious Community: Worship Space and Experience in Strasburg after the Franco-Prussian War Anthony J. Steinhoff	267
12	The Development and Destruction of a Social Institution: How Jews, Catholics and Protestants Lived Together in Rural Baden, 1862–1940 Ulrich Baumann	297
Part VI Afterword
13	Living Apart and Together in Germany Margaret Lavinia Anderson	317
	Index	333