Contents

NORMAN FAIRCLOUGH
Introduction ........................................................................................................... 9

Section 1
Critical Discourse Analysis and Corpus Linguistics

NORMAN FAIRCLOUGH
The Contribution of Discourse Analysis to Research on Social Change ............................................................................................................... 25

PAUL BAYLEY
Terror in Political Discourse from the Cold War to the Unipolar World ......................................................................................................................... 49

ALISON DUGUID
Soundbiters Bit. Contracted Dialogistic Space and the Textual Relations of the No. 10 Team Analysed through Corpus Assisted Discourse Studies ........................................................................................................ 73

DOUGLAS PONTON
When is it Reasonable to Cooperate? Tony Blair’s Statement on the Iraqi Crisis .................................................................................................................. 95

CAROLINE CLARK
A War of Words: A Linguistic Analysis of BBC Embed Reports during the Iraq Conflict ........................................................................................................ 119
Section 2
Language Variation and Social Change

MAURIZIO GOTTI
Globalisation and Discursive Changes in Specialised Contexts........ 143

FRED GARDAPHÉ
Language in Fiction: Italian at Work in Italian American Novels... 173

PATRIZIA ARDIZZONE
Whose Language Counts? Language Policy in the United States and Contemporary Social Change.......................................... 193

MARINA DOSSENA
Scots in Institutional Discourse: “Welcame til the Scottish Parrlament Wéseite”.......................................................... 213

SIRIA GUZZO
Multilingualism and Language Variation in the British Isles:
The Case of the Bedford Italian Community............................. 233

MARTIN SOLLY
Linguistic Choice in Contemporary Educational Reform.............. 259

Section 3
Language, Social Cognition and Ideology

TEUN A. VAN DIJK
Comments on Context and Conversation.................................. 281

ROBERT VISCUSI
Italy: Two Episodes in the History of a National Brand.............. 317

JOHN DOUTHWAITE
Ideology, Language and Gender Identity in a Detective Story...... 331

GIUSEPPINA CORTESE
Perspectivity in Human Rights Treaty Ratification:
The Convention on the Rights of the Child................................ 355

FEDERICA FERRARI
G. W. Bush’s Public Speeches to the Nation:
Exploiting Emotion in Persuasion........................................... 381

Section 4
Media/Multimedia Analysis of Social Change

MARINA BONDI
Key-words and Emotions: A Case Study of the Bloody Sunday
Inquiry.................................................................................. 407

AMELIE KUTTER
Petitioner or Partner? Constructions of European Integration in Polish Print Media Debates on the EU Constitutional Treaty.... 433

J.W. UNGER / JANE SUnderLAND
Gendered Discourses in a Contemporary Animated Film:
Subversion and Confirmation of Gender Stereotypes in Shrek...... 459

GIUSEPPE BALIRANO
De-stereotyping Otherness: A Multimodal Script Analysis of Semiotically Expressed Humour............................................ 487

MAXINE LIPSON
The Ubiquitous Machine: Visual Texts in the BBC Coverage of the Iraqi Conflict.............................................................. 507
IRA TORRESI

Quick Temper, Hot Blood: The Filmic Representation of Italian-American Speech and Rhetorical Strategies

531

Notes on Contributors

549