

TABLE OF CONTENTS

|   |           |
|---|-----------|
| Research considerations for interdisciplinary work on mathematics and its connections to the arts and sciences..... | 1         |
| Astrid Beckmann (Germany), Claus Michelsen (Denmark)& Bharath Sriraman (USA)                                    |           |
| Plenary Papers  |           |
| John Dewey Revisited – Pragmatism and the models-modeling perspective on mathematical learning.....                 | 7         |
| Richard Lesh (USA) & Bharath Sriraman (USA)   |           |
| Philosophy as a bridge between the arts, mathematics and sciences: historic and contemporary connections.....       | 32        |
| Bharath Sriraman (USA)  |           |
| Panel Papers: Mathematics and Art.....  | pp.52-107 |
| Symmetry as a mathematical schema across cultures and arts: the ancient Egyptian art as a case study.....           | 52        |
| Mohamed Mosaad Nou (Egypt)  |           |
| “Geomart” – Geometry reflected through Art.....   | 56        |
| Rachel Filo, Merav Yarkoni & Jenny Grayfer (Israel)   |           |
| Interactive geometric modelling in virtual space.....   | 67        |
| Heinz Schumann (Germany)  |           |
| Exploring round things - The circle project .....   | 85        |
| Veronica Preiss (Norway)  |           |
| Cyclide manipulation.....   | 99        |
| Akihiro Matsuura (Japan)  |           |

|   |             |
|---|-------------|
| Panel Papers: Mathematics and Literature.....   | pp.108-124  |
|   |             |
| An interdisciplinary approach: Literature in mathematical education.....  | 108         |
| Astrid Beckmann (Germany)   |             |
|   |             |
| A statistical study of English words.....   | 115         |
| Jyotsna Joshi (India)   |             |
|   |             |
| Panel Papers: Mathematics and Philosophy.....   | pp. 125-152 |
|   |             |
| Philosophy of Mathematics and access to mathematical objects.....   | 125         |
| Jessica Carter (Denmark)  |             |
|   |             |
| Physical constraints of numbers.....  | 134         |
| Wolfgang Mückenheim (Germany)   |             |
|   |             |
| Building a model for cross-curricular activities between Mathematics andPhilosophy.....   | 142         |
| Steffen M. Iversen (Denmark)  |             |
|   |             |
| Panel Papers: Mathematics and Didactical Issues.....  | pp.152-173  |
|   |             |
| Narratives in mathematics- Case of arts and science mathematics course atMcMaster.....  | 153         |
| Miroslav Lovric (Canada)  |             |
|   |             |
| Innovative approach of building connections between Science and MathDidactics in pre-service teacher education using WIKI-technology..... | 162         |
| Viktor Freiman (Canada) & Nicole Lirette-Pitre (Canada)   |             |

|  |            |
|--|------------|
| Panel Papers: Mathematics and Music.....   | pp.174-184 |
| Modeling with small integers and beyond: Pythagorean concepts in Science and Music.....                                | 174        |
| Manfred Euler (Germany)  |            |
| Mathematical analysis of tunes within the classical theory of music.....   | 176        |
| Günter Graumann (Germany)  |            |
| Panel Papers: Mathematics and Physics.....   | pp.185-226 |
| Theory of Distributions –an easy approach to sophisticated theory.....   | 185        |
| Ivan Drazic (Croatia)  |            |
| Calculus between mathematics and physics: Real-time measurements-A great opportunity for high-school teachers..... | 190        |
| Tine Golež (Slovenia)  |            |
| Expanding the domain: Variables and functions in an interdisciplinary contextbetween mathematics and physics.....  | 201        |
| Claus Michelsen (Denmark)  |            |
| Learning the concept of function through experimental activities.....  | 215        |
| Astrid Beckmann (Germany) & Arthur Litz (Germany)  |            |
| Plenary Paper  |            |
| Mathematics in contemporary arts and culture.....  | 227        |
| Dietmar Guderian (Germany)   |            |
