
CONTENTS

LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS	xi
PREFACE	xxiii
ACKNOWLEDGMENTS	xxvii
CHAPTER ONE
Introduction	1
Key Definitions	3
Broadsides, Banners, and Posters	3
Propaganda and Mass Persuasion	7
Changing Trends	9
Technology	9
Social Attitudes	12
Education	13
Legislation	14
Advertising and Political Marketing	15
Art and Graphic Design	18
Continuing Practices	22
Research Purposes	25
CHAPTER TWO
Broadsides and Posters in Early U.S. Presidential Election Campaigns	27
The “Heroic Man of the People” Against the “Aristocrat” (1828)	29

“Old Tippecanoe,” “The Little Magician,” and “The Log Cabin Campaign” (1836 and 1840)	33
Pre-Civil War Elections: The Increased Standardization of Propaganda Posters (1844–1860)	37
“The Rail Splitter” Becomes “The Great Emancipator,” and the Politics of Race (1860 and 1864)	39
Posters and Propaganda Strategy in Post-Civil War Elections (1868–1892)	42
Broadsides and Posters in the Contest Between Advocates of “Free Silver” and “The Gold Standard” (1896)	46
Election Campaigns Between the Depressions of 1896 and 1929	49

CHAPTER THREE

U.S. Presidential Election Posters in the Age of Mass Media	61
Franklin D. Roosevelt’s Four Campaigns (1932–1944)	62
Posters at the Dawn of the Television Era (1948–1956)	67
Posters in the Era of Television Dominance (1960–2004)	73

CHAPTER FOUR

Politics and Posters in France	101
Broadsides and Posters in the Emergence of Representative Politics in France	102
The Second Republic and Second Empire Under Louis Napoleon Bonaparte	103
The Third French Republic	105
Charles de Gaulle and the Fourth and Fifth Republics	110
The Role of Posters in French Elections in the Mass Media Age	115

CHAPTER FIVE
Broadsides and Posters in British Election Campaigns	125
The Genesis of Representative British Politics and the First Broadsides in Great Britain	125
The Role of Election Broadsides as the British Electorate Expanded	127
Posters, the Rise and Fall of the Liberals, and the Growth of the Labour Party	131
The Role of Posters in British Elections in the Mass Media Age	144
 CHAPTER SIX
Posters in Election Campaigns Around the Rest of the World	163
Africa	166
South Africa: Nelson Mandela and the ANC Victory (1994)	167
Asia	169
Japan: A Traditional Society Moves Toward Image Management in Politics in 2001	170
Taiwan: The Rise and Fall of the Kuomintang Party (1949–2004)	174
Europe	178
Germany from the Prussian Monarchy of the 1840s to Reunification in 1990	181
Poland and the Free Elections of 1990 and 1991	198
Hungary's Fight for Democracy and the 1990 Election	201
Latin America	205
Chile: Salvador Allende and the Suspension of Democracy (1970–1973)	206
Honduras: The Constitutional Crisis and Presidential Election of 1985	209
Mexico: The Rise and Fall of the National Revolutionary Party (1929–2000)	211

CHAPTER SEVEN
How Effective Have Political Posters Been?	221
CHAPTER EIGHT
Conclusions and Future Trends	231
Conclusions	236
Political poster propaganda is designed to elicit emotional reactions	236
Image management is important in election posters	237
Themes are emphasized in election posters	239
Legislation affects the use of posters, billboards, and banners in election campaigns	240
Election campaign posters are much utilized in countries where literacy is relatively low	241
Technological developments and artistic trends influence election posters and their use	241
Mass produced, high quality, pictorial posters are often part of election campaign packages	242
Future Trends	244
NOTES	247
INDEX	301