

Contents

	List of Illustrations	xi
	Preface	xv
	Some Notes on Usage	xix
1	INTRODUCTION: A Frenzy for Blood	1
	The Emergence of Blood Piety	1
	Blood in the Fifteenth-Century North	5
	Some Recent Approaches	9
	PART I. CULTS IN NORTHERN GERMANY	23
2	Wilsnack	25
	The Events	25
	Historiography	29
	Blood at the Center	31
	Treatises de Sanguine	36
	Larger Questions	43
3	Cults in Mecklenburg and the Mark Brandenburg	47
	Historiography and the Problem of the Evidence	49
	Blood Cult in Middle Germany and the Havelland	52
	North and West of Wilsnack	61
	Anti-Jewish Libels Circa 1500: Sternberg and Berlin	68
	The Fate of Cults in the Sixteenth-Century North	73
	Holy Matter and the Jews	75
	PART II. BLOOD DISPUTES IN FIFTEENTH-CENTURY EUROPE AND THEIR BACKGROUND	83
4	Debates About Eucharistic Transformations and Blood Relics	85
	Visions and Transformations	86
	The Practical Issue of Transformed Hosts	90

	Concomitance and the Cup	92
	The Debate over Blood Relics: Background	96
	Grosseteste, Bonaventure, and Aquinas on Blood Relics and Identity	98
	Gerhard of Cologne	106
	Discussions of Blood Relics in the Fifteenth Century	108
5	Christ's Blood in the Triduum Mortis	112
	Mayronis and the Barcelona Controversy of 1350–51	113
	John of Capistrano on the Precious Blood	116
	The Triduum Mortis Debate of 1462–64	120
	Some Arguments Attributed to Nicholas of Cusa	125
	Patterns in Dominican and Franciscan Theology	127
	Conclusion	130
	PART III. THE ASSUMPTIONS OF BLOOD PIETY	133
6	A Concern for Immutability	135
	The Immutability Theme at Wilsnack	137
	The Transformed-Hosts Debate: A Deeper Issue	138
	Immutability in Debates over Blood Relics and Treatises de Sanguine	141
	Wholeness and Immutability in Story and Cult	146
	Devotional Images	150
	Conclusion	151
7	Living Blood Poured Out	153
	Blood as Fertility	155
	Blood as Social Survival	157
	Blood as Engendering and Gendered	158
	Blood as Sedes Animae	161
	Continuity in Discontinuity: The Exsanguination of Christ	166
	Blood as Alive	168
8	Blood as Separated and Shed	173
	The Stress on Separation	173
	Blood as Drops	175
	The Revelation of the Hundred Pater Nosters	178
	Accusation and Reproach	180
	Blood as Symbol	185
	The Deeper Paradox: Sacrifice	188
	PART IV. SACRIFICE AND SOTERIOLOGY	193
9	Late Medieval Soteriology	195
	Salvation as Satisfaction and Response: The Conventional Account	196
	Salvation as Participation	202
	Julian of Norwich	204
	Conclusion	208
10	Sacrificial Theology	210
	The Biblical and Patristic Background	210
	Destruction and Oblation	215
	Sacrifice in Blood Cult and Controversy	221
	The Sixteenth Century	226
11	The Aporia of Sacrifice	229
	Questioning Blood: The Meditations on the Life of Christ	230
	Avoiding Sacrifice	234
	Who Sacrifices? Including/Excluding Christians and Blaming Jews	239
	Sacrifice and the Marking of Matter	244
12	CONCLUSION: Why Blood?	249
	List of Abbreviations	259
	Notes	263
	Bibliography of Works Cited	351
	Index	387
	Acknowledgments	401			