

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	xiii
List of Illustrations	xv
Appel! (Edith Kiss)	xvii
La Nuit (Edith Kiss)	xviii
1. The origin of the project: my personal interest in Ravensbrück	1
Notes	7
2. Is true historical reconstruction possible?	8
Heterogeneity	8
Obstacles to historical reconstruction	9
Special obstacles to Jewish commemoration	12
Memoirs and historical research	15
Notes	16
3. The Jewish prisoners of Ravensbrück: who were they?	19
Six years of Ravensbrück	19
Who was a Ravensbrück prisoner?	20
Who should be considered Jewish?	20
Gender questions	24
The percentage of Jewish prisoners	25
The sources	27
Periodization	32
Notes	40

4. The first period	46
No Jewish Alte Ravensbrückerinnen	47
Official reasons for arrest: police documents and the reality	54
The documentary basis for statistical estimates: filling the gaps	58
Nationality, age groups, marital status, and occupations of the first-period prisoners	61
Notes	63
5. The second period – from Bernburg to Auschwitz	67
Countries of origin	69
Official reasons for arrest	69
Age groups	69
Marital status	70
Conditions of life	70
The big deportation to Auschwitz	70
Notes	72
6. The third period – the special groups	73
Prisoners with hidden Jewish identities	73
The French transports	75
The special categories	75
Statistical summing-up of the third period	83
Notes	85
7. The fourth period – August 1944 to end of 1944: the floodgates open	88
August 1944: the arrival of Hungarian and Polish Jewish women and girls from Auschwitz	88
Three ghetto transports	94
A huge transport from Auschwitz	97
Direct deportations from Budapest: November 1944	99
The direct transports from Slovakia	107
The Frankfurt/Walldorf transport	108
The arrivals of December 1944	111
Summing-up the fourth period: national groups, age groups, and fates	117
Notes	126

8. The fifth period – the last stage	135
Who was in Ravensbrück at the beginning of 1945?	135
Major changes in 1945	136
The documentary evidence concerning new arrivals in 1945	138
Direct transports from Slovakia, France, and Italy	139
The arrivals from the Auschwitz Todesmarsch and their fates	142
Neustadt-Glewe	150
Krupp-Neukölln: an exceptional labor camp	157
The transport to Burgau: a death train of the last period	168
The role of the Bernadotte-Aktion in the rescue of Jewish Ravensbrück prisoners	178
Evacuation marches from Ravensbrück and its external camps	187
Evacuation marches from, or abandonment in, external camps	189
Liberation policies	193
Statistical summing-up of all fifth-period arrivals	196
A late large transport of Jewish men to the women's camp	198
Notes	200
9. Summing-up: the place of Ravensbrück in the Holocaust of Jewish women	211
Statistical summing-up of all five periods	211
Ravensbrück and Auschwitz	215
Women and girls of part-Jewish descent (Mischlinge) in Ravensbrück	220
Non-Jewish prisoners married to Jews	221
“Righteous of the Nations” in Ravensbrück	222
Notes	226
10. Social ties and moral survival	228
Why was there so little group-wide social organization among the Jewish prisoners of Ravensbrück?	228
The crucial role of small-group or “camp-family” ties	237
Individual and group contacts between Jewish and other prisoners	243
Remembering the jailers	246
What is heroism – everyday moral behavior	247
Gender-specific issues	250
Conclusions	257
Notes	258

11. Diagrams	263
Diagram 1 The First Period – Countries of Origin	263
Diagram 2 The First Period – Age Groups	264
Diagram 3 The Second Period – Countries of Origin	265
Diagram 4 The Second Period – Age groups	266
Diagram 5 The Third Period – Age Groups	267
Diagram 6 The Third Period – Formal Citizenship	268
Diagram 7 The Third Period – Fate	269
Diagram 8 The Fourth Period – Countries of Origin	270
Diagram 9 Fourth Period – Age Groups	271
Diagram 10 The Fourth Period – Fate	272
Diagram 11 The Fifth Period – Countries of Origin	273
Diagram 12 The Fifth Period – Age Groups	274
Diagram 13 The Jewish Women of Ravensbrück – Countries of Origin	275
Diagram 14 The Jewish Women of Ravensbrück – The Five Periods, Countries of Origin	276
Diagram 15 The Jewish Women of Ravensbrück – Age	277
Diagram 16 The Jewish Women of Ravensbrück – The Five Periods, Age	278
Diagram 17 The Jewish Women of Ravensbrück – The Five Periods, Fate	279
12. Literature concerning the Jewish prisoners of Ravensbrück	280
Full-length published autobiographical memoirs	269
Short memoirs, edited by others	270
Autobiographical and biographical documents	274
Unpublished memoirs	275
Books on Ravensbrück by non-Jewish prisoners who describe the situation of Jewish prisoners	275
Research concerning the Jewish prisoners of Ravensbrück	275
13. Lists of interviews	288
14. Appendix	306
List of major camps and ghettos from which Jewish prisoners of Ravensbrück came	306
List of major camps to which Jewish prisoners of Ravensbrück were sent	307

Maps

Nazi Camps	309
Ravensbrück	310
Photo of Ravensbrück	311

Indices

Archives and Documents	313
Concentration Camps	315
Names other than Victims and Survivors	318
Victims and Survivors	321
Places	326
Subjects	330
CD-ROM with a list of names of all known Jewish prisoners of Ravensbrück	back cover