

Contents

7	Preface
9	I. Orissa, land of elephants ( v. Stietencron/Mallebrein )
14	A survey of its history and its religious tradition
37	II. Royal rule and divine protection ( Mallebrein )
39	Tutelary goddesses – secular and divine rule
49	The Raja of Bhatapada – a portrait
62	Hiṅgulā – goddess of fire and her festival
69	III. When all gods meet
72	The doḷamelāṇa festival – the swing festival in spring ( v. Stietencron )
76	The maṇḍei festival – the joyful gathering of the gods ( Mallebrein )
81	IV. Healing in trance – the living god on earth ( Mallebrein )
84	Divination and healing – the ‘living gods on earth’
93	From the forest to the human realm – the Kandh clan gods Paṭkhaṇḍā and Śūliā
109	V. Darśan – contact with the divine
111	Devotion and decoration – the worship of gods ( Mallebrein )
120	Jagannāth – Lord of the world and divine protector ( v. Stietencron )
129	Śiva – Lord of the three worlds ( v. Stietencron )
141	The sixty-four Yoginīs – a secret cult still unexplored ( v. Stietencron )
147	Kṛṣṇa, Rādhā and Chaitanya – the Bhakti tradition ( Malinar )
156	Hanumān – modern times in Orissan villages ( v. Stietencron )
159	VI. Crossroads and byroads – Village and roadside gods ( Mallebrein )
161	Sacred geography – the village, the forests and the gods
173	The Goddess Tāriṇī – from the jungle to the World Wide Web
183	Bhīma and Bhīmānī – when gods grow old
189	VII. The symbols and meanings of tribal art ( Mallebrein )
191	‘Living gods’ as inspiration – bronze images in Western Orissa
198	The earth, ghosts and thieves – the artistic tradition of the Maliah Kandhs
208	Ancestors and tutelary spirits – rituals and wall paintings of the Lanjia Sora
226	Notes
238	Bibliography
246	Index
252	Maps, coordinates & pronunciation
256	The authors